
Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction Laura McCall	1
1. "Tell Me with Whom You Walk and I Will Tell You Who You Are": Honor and Virtue in Eighteenth-Century Colonial New Mexico Ramón A. Gutiérrez	25
2. Bulls, Bears, and Dancing Boys: Race, Gender, and Leisure in the California Gold Rush Susan Lee Johnson	45
3. Manly Gambles: The Politics of Risk on the Comstock Lode, 1860-1880 Gunther Peck	73
4. Cool to the End: Public Hangings and Western Manhood Durwood Ball	97
5. White Men, Red Masks: Appropriations of "Indian" Manhood in Imagined Wests David Anthony Tyeeme Clark and Joane Nagel	109

6. "A Distinct and Antagonistic Race": Constructions of Chinese Manhood in the Exclusionist Debates, 1869-1878 Karen J. Leong	131
7. Nomads, Bunkies, Cross-Dressers, and Family Men: Cowboy Identity and the Gendering of Ranch Work Dee Garceau	149
8. Domesticated Bliss: Ranchers and Their Animals Karen R. Merrill	169
9. Man-Power: Montana Copper Workers, State Authority, and the (Re)drafting of Manhood during World War II Matthew Basso	185
10. On the Road: Cassady, Kerouac, and Images of Late Western Masculinity Craig Leavitt	211
11. "All the Best Cowboys Have Chinese Eyes": The Utilization of the Cowboy-Hero Image in Contemporary Asian-American Literature Steven M. Lee	231
12. "I Guess Your Warrior Look Doesn't Work Every Time": Challenging Indian Masculinity in the Cinema Brian Klopotek	251
13. Tex-Sex-Mex: American Identities, Lone Stars, and the Politics of Racialized Sexuality José E. Limón	275
Contributors	293
Permissions	297
Index	299