

Contents

Acknowledgements — IX

Introduction: Contemporary German Literature and Cultural Globalization — 1

1 Effects of Globalization on the Literary Marketplace and Contemporary Authorship — 19

Distinctive Features of Germany's Literary Marketplace — 20

Authorship: Changed Paradigms — 23

Showing the Authorial Self — 28

Fräuleinwunder — 35

The Rise of New German Pop Literature — 38

Fashioning the Authorial Self on the World Wide Web — 43

Personal Web Sites as a Medium of Authorial Self-Representation — 46

Authorship 2.0: Stephenie Meyer — 51

2 Globalizing German Literature: Literary Debates around the Millennium — 57

Debates among Older Intellectuals — 59

"... ist alles so schön bunt hier:" Debates on Contemporary Realism — 65

Authentische Alltäglichkeit: Turning towards a Literature of the Authentic Everyday — 74

Ingo Schulze's Simple Storys (1998) — 76

Elke Naters's Königinnen (1998) and Lügen (1999) — 81

3 Brave New Work World: Narratives of the New Economy — 89

Recent Developments in the German Economy — 93

The Individual in Precarious Times — 97

A Short History of Work Literature — 100

Narratives of Work in the Aughts — 102

The Aesthetics of the Surface: The Work of (M)Ad Men in Joachim Bessing's Wir Maschine (2001) and Rainer Merkel's Das Jahr der Wunder (2001) — 103

Economized Bodies: John von Düffel's EGO (2001) — 116

The Readability of the World in Ghostly Times: Kathrin Röggla's wir schlafen nicht (2004) — 120

- 4 Forms of Social Realism: Unemployment in Contemporary Narratives — 129
Sentenced to Idleness: Annette Pehnt's Mobbing (2007) and Jakob Hein's Herr Jensen steigt aus (2006) — 132
Flotsam of Globalization: Joachim Zelter's Die Schule der Arbeitslosen (2006) — 139
- 5 Traveling Without Moving? Narratives of (Im)Mobility — 147
Global Tourists in Judith Hermann's Nichts als Gespenster (2003) — 153
Mobile Cosmopolitans in Gregor Hens's Transfer Lounge (2003) — 157
Global and Local Violence: Gregor Hens's Matta verlässt seine Kinder (2004) — 160
Hedonism Gone Global: Christian Kracht's Der gelbe Bleistift (1999) — 164
No Happiness on Earth: Sibylle Berg's Die Fahrt (2007) — 172
Retreating to the Province: Florian Illies's Ortsgespräch (2006) — 180
- 6 Coda: Piles of Authenticity: Narrating 09/11 — 189
- Works Cited — 201
- Index — 227