

The Parish and Pilgrimage Church of St Elizabeth in Košice

Town, Court, and Architecture in Late Medieval Hungary

TIM JUCKES

BREPOLS

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	1
1. A Late Medieval Town Church and its Modern Reception: St Elizabeth's from the Sixteenth to the Twenty-First Century	5
Before the mid-nineteenth century: damage, restorations, and early historians	5
St Elizabeth's and the beginnings of Hungarian monument preservation	7
Written sources for St Elizabeth's	12
St Elizabeth's and its historians: the church in the literature from the beginnings of Hungarian art history to the present day	13
Conclusions: the evidential and historiographical contexts for further research	16
2. Košice – A Free Royal Town in Medieval Hungary: Origins, Topography, Architecture	23
The early history of Košice: from its beginnings to around 1400	23
Urban topography	26
The patronage and financing of building projects	32
The administration of building projects	38
The town lodge and its master masons	39
Conclusions	41
3. The Rebuilding of St Elizabeth's–I: The Beginning of Works	53
The beginning of rebuilding work in the written sources	53
The old church	56
The new church: phases of work and the pace of construction	57
The first phase of work: extent, stylistic origins, and patronal aspects	63

The establishment of the groundplan and its construction around the old church	63
The first-phase work and its stylistic origins	70
The town and its building project	80
The beginning of works in retrospect: some conclusions	82
4. The Rebuilding of St Elizabeth's–II:
The Completion of the Nave, Transepts, and Choir	87
The written sources for building activity in Košice in the first half of the fifteenth century	87
The course of the second-phase work: the emergence of a new plan and its realisation	89
The stylistic character of the second-phase work	95
The plan change in stylistic context	95
The portals	96
The portals' figurative sculpture	110
The south transept ensemble	125
The west end	129
The vaults	132
The evidence of tracery: fenestration, gables, balustrades	143
Conclusions: the stylistic character of the second-phase work	147
New St Elizabeth's as a work of patronage: the burghers, the plan changes, and the second-phase work	149
The second phase in retrospect: some conclusions	154
5. The Rebuilding of St Elizabeth's–III: The Final Phases of Work	169
The final decades of work in the written sources, c. 1450–1490	169
The sanctuary	173
The development of the plan for the west end	181
The private chapels	184
Furnishings	186
The final phases of rebuilding work and Master Stephan	187
Conclusions: towards a chronology for the rebuilding	188
6. The Finished Church in Context. Some Local and Regional Horizons	195
Košice before the St Elizabeth's project: the fourteenth-century town as a patron of representative architecture	195
The St Elizabeth's project and its regional impact	199
Conclusions	210
Conclusions: The Town's Church-Building Enterprise in Retrospect	215
Appendix A: Compendium of Textual and Armorial Sources	217
Appendix B: Masons' Marks	235

Appendix C: Visual Survey of St Elizabeth's Before the Restoration of 1877–1896	245
Bibliography	255
List of Illustrations	273
Abbreviations	283
Index	285