

---

Contents

---

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Series introduction	xiv
Introduction	1

PART I

Philosophical, Sociological and Psychological Foundations	7
1 What can a reflective teacher learn from philosophies of music education?	9
HEIDI WESTERLUND
2 Policy and practice in music education	20
RUTH WRIGHT
3 Creativity, culture and the practice of music education	33
JOHN FINNEY
4 The justification for music in the curriculum	48
CHRIS PHILPOTT
5 What is musical development and can education make a difference?	64
KEITH SWANWICK

PART II
Political Perspectives	83
6 Music education and social justice	85
PAUL WOODFORD
7 The National Curriculum as manifest destiny	102
CATHY BENEDICT AND PATRICK SCHMIDT
8 Musical ideologies, practices and pedagogies	118
GARY SPRUCE WITH FRANCESCA MATTHEWS
PART III
The Pedagogy of Music	135
9 Integrity and autonomy for music in a creative and cross-curriculum	137
JONATHAN BARNES
10 Assessment for self-directed learning in music education	153
CHRIS PHILPOTT
11 Those who can, play; those who can't, use Music Tech?	169
JONATHAN SAVAGE
12 Musical knowledge, critical consciousness and critical thinking	185
GARY SPRUCE
13 Music 14–19: Choices, challenges, and opportunities	197
KEITH EVANS
14 Partnerships in music education	209
KATHERINE ZESERSON
PART IV
Professional Development	221
15 Teachers and pupils as researchers	223
TIM CAIN AND PAMELA BURNARD
16 Professional development and music education	242
VANESSA YOUNG
Index	259