

Contents

Abbreviations	vii
Contributors	ix
Introduction Martin Pickavé and Lisa Shapiro	1
Dispassionate Passions Peter King	9
Why is the Sheep Afraid of the Wolf? Medieval Debates on Animal Passions Dominik Perler	32
John Duns Scotus on the Passions of the Will Ian Drummond	53
Intellections and Volitions in Ockham's Nominalism Claude Panaccio	75
Emotion and Cognition in Later Medieval Philosophy: The Case of Adam Wodeham Martin Pickavé	94
Sixteenth-Century Discussions of the Passions of the Will Simo Knuuttila	116
The Philosopher as a Lover: Renaissance Debates on Platonic Eros Sabrina Ebbersmeyer	133
Reasons, Causes, and Inclinations Paul Hoffman	156
Using the Passions Dennis Des Chene	176
How We Experience the World: Passionate Perception in Descartes and Spinoza Lisa Shapiro	193
Agency and Attention in Malebranche's Theory of Cognition Deborah Brown	217
Spinoza on Passions and Self-Knowledge: The Case of Pride Lilli Alanen	234

VI CONTENTS

Family Trees: Sympathy, Comparison, and the Proliferation of the Passions in Hume and his Predecessors Amy M. Schmitter	255
Index	279