

Contents

Contents	i
List of Figures	ii
List of Tables	v
Introductory note.....	vi
Tumuli Graves – Status symbol of the dead in Bronze and Iron Ages in Europe	1
Organizers: Valeriu Sîrbu, Cristian Schuster
Rituals and death cults in recent prehistory in Central Portugal (Alto Ribatejo)	3
Alexandra Figueiredo
The cave of Sa Omu and Tziu Giovanni Murgia, Funtana Arrubia, Nurallao (south-central Sardinia – Italy): First conclusions	17
Alexandra Figueiredo, Giuseppina Gradoli, Rosalba Floris, Cláudio Monteiro, Irene Sanna and Emanuele Pittoni
The Yamnaya burials from Sultana, in the context of the similar finds on the territory of Romania	23
Done Şerbanescu, Alexandra Comşa
Early Bronze Age burial mounds in South Romania.	29
Cristian Schuster
In Search for Prestige: Bronze Age Tumular Graves in West Serbia.....	35
Marija Ljuština, Katarina Dmitrović
Criteria for a social status typology in prehistory (Open model for discussion)	43
Lolita Nikolova
“Armed” Females of Iron Age Trans-Uralian Forest-Steppe: Social Reality or Status Identity?.....	53
Natalia Berseneva
Funerary Monuments of the Scythian Amazons (Social Aspect).....	61
Elena Fialko
Between Etruscan, Greeks and Celts: chagement in the good graves of the Ligurian Iron Age necropolis	69
Davide Delfino
5th-4th c. BC Thracian Orphic Tumular Burials in Sliven Region (Southeastern Bulgaria)...	77
Diana Dimitrova
Agighiol and Peretu – Graves at Getae Basilei (350-300 BC) at Lower Danube.....	85
Valeriu Sîrbu	