
Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction: Jewett's "Housebreaker" versus Ruskin's "Queens": Liberation from the Victorian Home and Garden	1
Part I: Escape and Denial	19
1. Childhood Escapades	23
2. Adolescent Retreat	35
3. Fairy Godmothers	55
Part II: No Escape: The Acceptance of Dual Norms	63
4. Paralyzed Men	67
5. Aristocratic Women	81
6. Romance	97
7. The Standard Marriage	115
Part III: Breaking Free	131
8. Sexual Transformation	135
9. Women Unrestrained	141
10. Redeemed Men	159
11. The Postponed Marriage	183

CONTENTS

12.	“A White Heron”: Symbolic Possibilities for Androgyny	197
13.	Beyond Gender: The Country of the Pointed Firs	207
	Afterword	229
	List of Abbreviations	231
	Select Bibliography	233
	Index	241