

Contents

Introduction, by Günther Pallaver, Michael Gebler, and Maurizio Cau	p. 9
I. HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVES AND TRANSFORMATION PROCESS
Different Paths toward Europe? Germany, Italy, and Austria 1945-2009, by Michael Gebler	17
Right-wing Populism in Europe, by Karin Priester	45
Populism: Definitions, Questions, Problems, and Theories, by Koen Abts and Rudi Laermans	63
Populism vs Constitutionalism. The Theoretical Core of Populist Ideology and the Foundations of the Democratic System, by Maurizio Cau	81
Populism in the Mainstream Media. Germany, Austria, and Italy in Comparison, by Günther Pallaver	99
II. POLITICAL ACTORS SHAPING THE POPULIST CHALLENGE
Jörg Haider and His Freiheitliche Partei Österreichs, by Reinhold Gärtner	123
The Northern League: Bossi, Salvini, and the Many Faces of Populism, by Marco Brunazzo	139
Berlusconi as a Circumstantial Populist, by Giovanni Orsina	157

Gianfranco Fini. From Neofascist “Dauphin” to anti-Fascist “Traitor”, by Lutz Klinkhammer	p. 181
“Alternative für Deutschland”. The Belated Arrival of Right-wing Populism in the Federal Republic, by Frank Decker	199
Angela Merkel and Romano Prodi: Antithesis of Populism?, by Manfred Görtemaker	217
III. EUROPEAN POLITICAL PARTIES, THEIR RESPONSE TO THE POPULIST CHALLENGE, AND THEIR TREATMENT OF POPULISM
Between Collaboration and Demarcation. The European People’s Party and the Populist Wave, by Steven van Hecke and Alex Andrione-Moylan	239
Social Democracy and the Challenge of Populism, by Giovanni Bernardini	259
The Greens and Populism: A Contradiction in Terms?, by Hans Heiss	277
European Liberal Parties and the Challenge of Populism, by Guido Thieme	303
Populism. A Short Conclusion to the Volume, by Anton Pelinka	319
Index of Names	333
Contributors	337