

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Cristina Rosillo-López Introduction	7
---	---

PUBLIC OPINION: NATURE AND CHARACTER

Frédéric Hurlet L'öffentliche Meinung de Habermas et l'opinion publique dans la Rome antique. De la raison à l' auctoritas	23
Amy Russell The populus Romanus as the source of public opinion	41
Cristina Rosillo-López How did Romans perceive and measure public opinion?	57

PUBLIC OPINION: MILITARY AND INSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS

Enrique García Riaza Laureatae litterae . Announcing Victories and Public Opinion in the Middle Republic	85
Alejandro Díaz Fernández Military disasters, public opinion, and Roman politics during the wars in Hispania (153–133 B. C.)	107
Wolfgang Blösel The imperium extraordinarium of the 70s to 50s B. C. and Public Opinion	135
Kit Morrell “Who wants to go to Alexandria?” Pompey, Ptolemy, and public opinion, 57–56 BC	151
Clifford Ando The space and time of politics in civil war	175

PUBLIC OPINION AS PUBLIC DIALOGUE

Francisco Pina Polo Rhetoric of Fear in Republican Rome: the Ciceronian Case	191
T. W. Hillard Ventus Popularis? ‘Popular Opinion’ in the 70s and its senatorial Reception	211
Kathryn Welch Selling Proscription to the Roman Public	241

THE TRANSMISSION OF PUBLIC OPINION

W. Jeffrey Tatum Canvassing the elite: communicating sound values in the Commentariolum Petitionis	257
Alexander Jakobson Velleius Paterculus, imperial ideology and the old republic	273

APPENDIX

List of contributors	295
Index of Names	297
Subject Index	303