

Contents

| | |
|--|-----|
| List of Illustrations | xi |
| Introduction | 1 |
| 1. Material Processes: The Glossing of Lydgate's Siege of Thebes and Fall of Princes | 19 |
| 2. Authors, Translators, and Commentators: Glossing Practices in Bodleian MS Fairfax 16 | 54 |
| 3. Exhortations to the Reader: The Double Glossing of Douglas' Eneados | 81 |
| 4. Glossing the Spoken Word: Erasmus' Moriae Encomium and Chaloner's Praise of Folie | 103 |
| 5. A Broil of Voices: The Printed Word in Baldwin's Beware the Cat and Bullein's Dialogue against the Fever Pestilence | 123 |
| 6. 'Masking naked in a net': Author and Text in the Works of Gascoigne and Harington | 149 |
| 7. 'Playing the Dolt in Print': The Extemporary Glossing of Nashe's Pierce Penilesse his Supplication to the Devil | 175 |
| Afterword | 205 |
| Bibliography | 211 |
| Index | 235 |