

Contents

Map of Italy showing cities and towns of origin or destination of letters associated with the correspondents	x
Acknowledgments	xi
About the Editor	xv
Introduction	1
CHAPTER ONE The Active Versus the Contemplative Life	31
1. Caterina Benincasa describes the execution of Niccolò di Toldo to Raymond of Capua	33
2. Brigida Baldinotti praises the women who serve at Florence's Santa Maria Nuova hospital	38
3. Cassandra Fedele responds to Alessandra Scala's request for advice on whether to write or marry	45
4. Paola Antonia Negri urges Gaspara Stampa to choose the life of the spirit over worldly life	47
5. Olimpia Fulvia Morata to Celio Secondo Curione on "giving birth" to her writings	51
6. Maria Maddalena de' Pazzi sends Christmas nativity scene decorations to her niece Maria	56
Suggestions for further reading	59

CHAPTER TWO Humanism and Its Discontents	61
7. Maddalena Scrovegni to Jacopo dal Verme in praise of Giangaleazzo Visconti	63
8. Isotta Nogarola asks Guarino Guarini why he has not responded to her letter	67
9. Costanza Varano writes to Isotta Nogarola, expressing admiration for her learning	70
10. Nicolosa Castellani Sanuti to Cardinal Bessarion challenging sumptuary laws	73
11. Laura Cereta to Agostino Emilio condemning women's excessive luxury in dress	91
Suggestions for further reading	96
CHAPTER THREE Governing the Household/Governing the State	99
12. Margherita Datini criticizes her husband Francesco Datini for his handling of business matters	101
13. Lucrezia Tornabuoni reports her impressions of a prospective bride for their son to husband Piero de' Medici	105
14. Eleonora d'Aragona complains to husband Ercole d'Este about his soldiers' unbridled violence	109
15. Guglielmina Schianteschi informs her husband Luigi della Stufa of her management of country property	112
16. Lucrezia Borgia warns her father Pope Alexander VI Borgia to leave Rome	116
17. Maria Salviati tells Giovanni [?] of her determination not to remarry	118
18. Caterina de' Ricci advises her father Pierfrancesco de' Ricci to resolve a family quarrel	122
Suggestions for further reading	125
CHAPTER FOUR Mothers and Children	127
19. Pandolfina Baglioni expresses her desire to see her mother, Pantasilea Salimbene	129
20. Alessandra Macinghi Strozzi to her son Filippo Strozzi on taking precautions against illness and death	131
21. Lucrezia (Nannina) de' Medici confides in her mother Lucrezia Tornabuoni about a marital disagreement	136

22. Caterina Sforza warns her son Ottaviano Riario to maintain secrecy and beware of enemies	138
23. Cassandra Chigi discusses household needs and shopping with her mother Sulpizia Petrucci	141
24. Veronica Franco reproves a woman who wants to train her daughter as a courtesan	144
25. Isabella Andreini congratulates a man on the birth of a daughter	149
Suggestions for further reading	153
CHAPTER FIVE Love and Friendship	155
26. Camilla Pisana complains to Francesco del Nero about her lover Filippo Strozzi	157
27. Maria Savorgnan to Pietro Bembo expressing the depth of her love for him	161
28. Cecilia Liconella expresses her love to Nicolò de Lazara, a noble she met in Padua	164
29. Marietta Corsini describes their newborn son to her husband Niccolò Machiavelli	166
30. Vittoria Colonna explains to Michelangelo Buonarroti why she has not written	168
31. Ginevra Gozzadini seeks marital advice from her spiritual advisor Leone Bartolini	171
32. Celia Romana describes amusements of Roman Carnival season and expresses distress at her lover's neglect	174
33. Emilia N. Fiorentina returns her lover's letters but asks him to publish his love poems	177
34. Margherita Costa imagines a love letter written by a beautiful woman to a dwarf	179
Suggestions for further reading	181
CHAPTER SIX Literature and Leisure	183
35. Bartolomea degli Obizzi Alberti discusses theories of reading with a female friend	185
36. Ippolita Maria Sforza describes her impressions as a newlywed at the Aragonese court to her mother Bianca Maria Visconti	189
37. Tullia d'Aragona asks Benedetto Varchi's aid in drafting a letter to Duke Cosimo I de' Medici and Duchess Eleonora	192

38. Laura Battiferra dedicates her book of poetry to Eleonora di Toledo, Duchess of Florence	195
39. Vittoria Archilei laments her declining singing career and asks the Grand Duchess Christine to assist her son	198
40. Francesca Caccini requests a libretto for her new composition from Michelangelo Buonarroti the Younger	201
41. Arcangela Tarabotti thanks friar Giovanni Battista Fusconi for sending her his musical drama	205
Suggestions for further reading	208
CHAPTER SEVEN Art: Patrons and Painters	211
42. Isabella d’Este proposes a subject for a painting to Leonardo da Vinci	213
43. Veronica Gambara recommends a work of the painter Correggio to Isabella d’Este	215
44. Cornelia Collonello appeals to Michelangelo Buonarroti in a legal dispute with her father	217
45. Margherita Aratori expresses to Costanza Colonna how she misses her	221
46. Sofonisba Anguissola asks Philip II of Spain for a recommendation for her husband	223
47. Lavinia Fontana replies to Alfonso Ciacòn, sending a self-portrait that he had requested	225
48. Artemisia Gentileschi discusses costs and terms of payment for her paintings with Don Antonio Ruffo	227
Suggestions for further reading	230
CHAPTER EIGHT Inquiring Minds: Science and Philosophy	233
49. Ceccarella Minutolo to Theophilo on how knowledge is acquired and transmitted	235
50. Chiara Matraini to Maria Cardonia on the superiority of philosophy to military “science”	239
51. Margherita Sarrocchi confirms Galileo’s astronomical observations to Guido Bettoli	245
52. Camilla Erculiani Greghetti explains her theory of the interaction of physical elements at the time of the Biblical Flood to Márton Berzeviczy	248

53. Sara Copio Sullam discusses philosophical and theological views on human mortality with Baldassarre Bonifacio	253
54. Virginia Galilei sends for linens and requests a copy of The Assayer from her father Galileo Galilei	258
55. Elena Lucrezia Corner Piscopia asks university director Nicolò Venier to restore her mentor's tenure	261
Suggestions for further reading	264
Bibliography	267
Credits	289
Index	291
Color plates follow page xv	