

Contents

Foreword: War without Tears: European Broadcasting and Competition Franco Fabbri	vii
Introduction Dafni Tragaki	1
1 Tempus Edax Rerum : Time and the Making of the Eurovision Song Philip V. Bohlman	35
2 Eurovision Everywhere: A Kaleidoscopic Vision of the Grand Prix Andrea F. Bohlman and Ioannis Polychronakis	57
3 The Nordic Brotherhoods: Eurovision as a Platform for Partnership and Competition Annemette Kirkegaard	79
4 The Big Match: Literature, Cinema, and the Sanremo Festival Deception Goffredo Plastino	109
5 Performing Affiliation: On Topos in the Swedish Preliminaries Karin Strand	137
6 Delimiting the Eurobody: Historicity, Politicization, Queerness Apostolos Lampropoulos	151

7	The Oriental Body on the European Stage: Producing Turkish Cultural Identity on the Margins of Europe Thomas Solomon	173
8	Invincible Heroes: The Musical Construction of National and European Identities in Swedish Eurovision Song Contest Entries Alf Björnberg	203
9	“And After Love . . .”: Eurovision, Portuguese Popular Culture, and the Carnation Revolution Luisa Pinto Teixeira and Martin Stokes	221
10	The Monsters’ Dream: Fantasies of the Empire Within Dafni Tragaki	241
11	The Rise and Fall of the Singing Tiger: Ireland and Eurovision Tony Langlois	261
12	Doing the European Two-Step Andrea F. Bohlman and Alexander Rehdig	281
	Index	299
	About the Contributors	317