

CONTENTS

About the Author xii
Preface xiii
Acknowledgements xix

PART 1: THE MANAGEMENT CONSULTANCY PHENOMENON 1

1 Defining management consultancy 7

Introduction 7
Opposing perspectives on management consultancy 8
Characteristics of management consultancy 10
Definitions of management consultancy 13
Case study: Seizing the real opportunity 19
Categories of professional services 21
Roles of management consultants 25
Divisions of responsibilities 30
External versus internal management consultancy 31
Management consultancy as a profession 32
Summary 36
Reflective questions 37
Mini case study: To certify or not to certify 38
Further reading 39
References 39

2 Origin and development of management consultancy 42

Introduction 42

The advisor through the ages 43

The emergence of the first field of management consultancy:
operations consultancy 45

The emergence of the second field of management consultancy:
organization and strategy consultancy 49

The emergence of the third field of management consultancy:
information technology consultancy 53

Institutional changes driving the growth of management
consultancy 55

Case study: McKinsey & Company 59

The rise and decline of management consultancies 62

Summary 70

Reflective questions 70

Mini case study: The return of an accountancy firm 71

Further reading 72

References 72

3 Reasons, risks, and results of management consultancy 75

Introduction 75

Difficulties in measuring the effect of management
consultancy 76

Fees for external management consultancy 78

Reasons for hiring management consultants 82

Case study: The effect of advice 84

The effects of knowledge 86

The effects of problem solving and management audits:
three fields of management consultancy 88

The effects of informal roles 90

The effects of the growth in demand for management
consultancy 92

External versus internal management consultancy 92

Risks of using external management consultancy 96

Resistance to management consultancy 99

Management consultants' practices for generating demand 100

Summary 101

Reflective questions 102

Mini case study: Claiming impact 103

Further reading 103

References 104

PART 2: THE MANAGEMENT CONSULTANCY INDUSTRY 105

4 Overview of the management consultancy industry landscape 111

Introduction 111

Analysing the management consultancy industry 112

The management consultancy industry in three dimensions 117

Case study: Management consultancy across borders 122

Scale of firms in the management consultancy industry 124

Scope of firms in the management consultancy industry 127

Summary 133

Reflective questions 134

Mini case study: From Australia to Africa 134

Further reading 136

References 136

5 The competitive landscape of the management consultancy industry 138

Introduction 138

Competitive strategies 139

Case study: A network-based management consultancy firm 149

Competitive forces 151

Key developments 166

Summary 173

Reflective questions 174

Mini case study: The invasion of foreign firms 175

Further reading 176

References 176

6 Macro-developments and the management consultancy industry 178

Introduction 178

The impact of business cycles on management consultancy 179

The impact of technological waves on management consultancy 183

Case study: Management consultancy and ICT-driven disruption 185

The impact of management knowledge on management consultancy 187

The management knowledge cluster 192

Globalization and the spread of capitalism	200
Summary	201
Reflective questions	202
Mini case study: In search of the next big idea	203
Further reading	204
References	204

PART 3: THE MANAGEMENT CONSULTANCY FIRM 207

7 The value chain of the management consultancy firm 213

Introduction	213
Understanding the value chain	214
The primary activities of the management consultancy firm	217
The support activities of the management consultancy firm	224
Linkages between activities	229
Case study: Evalueserve and the outsourcing of high-end parts of the consultancy value chain	230
Value chain and competitive advantage	231
Disaggregation of the value chain	233
Summary	236
Reflective questions	236
Mini case study: Outsourcing the consultancy's activities?	237
Further reading	237
References	238

8 Managing the management consultancy firm 240

Introduction	240
Business models	241
Organizational structures	245
Leadership and control	248
Organizational culture	250
Legal forms	253
Case study: Transition of a management consultancy firm	255
Micro-structure of a project team	257
Economics	259
Summary	268
Reflective questions	269
Mini case study: Downsizing the consultancy firm	269
Further reading	270
References	270

9 People and careers in management consultancy 273

Introduction 273

Reasons for applying 274

A people business 276

The recruitment process 278

Case study: A case interview with a management consultancy firm 280

What are management consulting firms looking for? 287

Career structures 291

Performance appraisals 298

Turnover 303

The price of consultancy 307

Gender and consultancy 308

Life after the firm: alumni 309

Summary 311

Reflective questions 312

Mini case study: Promotion to partner? 312

Further reading 314

References 314

PART 4: THE MANAGEMENT CONSULTANCY PROJECT 315

10 Clients and other stakeholders 321

Introduction 321

The management consultancy cycle 322

The consultant's perspective 324

The client's perspective 330

Case study: Understanding the client 338

Understanding the prospect's real hiring reason 339

The role of the client's stakeholders 344

Developing the proposal 347

Setting the fee 351

Presenting the proposal 354

The contract 355

Procurement models 356

Ethics and social responsibility 360

Summary 361

Reflective questions 362

Mini case study: The alumnus 362

Further reading 363

References 363

11 Management of a consultancy project 366

Introduction 366

Defining the management consultancy project 367

Structuring the management consultancy project 368

Phase 1: Initiation 370

Phase 2: Design 373

Phase 3: Execution 381

Phase 4: Control 381

Phase 5: Closure 383

Case study: Client team members 385

Organizing the management consultancy project 386

The consultancy project manager 389

The consultancy project team member 392

Summary 394

Reflective questions 395

Mini case study: Internal versus external consultants – who is in the lead? 396

Further reading 397

References 397

12 Structured problem diagnosis 399

Introduction 399

The people side of problem solving 400

Approaches to problem solving 401

What is a problem? 403

The result gap 403

Structured problem diagnosis 406

Extended case study: AcStrat Consulting 413

Structured opportunity diagnosis 432

Summary 438

Mini case study: Ivy Business School 439

Exercises 446

Reflective questions 447

Further reading 448

References 448

13 Structured solution development 450

Introduction 450

Why use a structured approach? 451

Identify the decisions 451

Extended case study: AcStrat Consulting 453

Develop possible solutions 454

Structure possible solutions 457

Select a hypothesis about a possible solution 458

Test a hypothesis 459
Design the analysis 463
Collect the data 467
Analyse the assumptions 472
Uncertainty 474
Make decisions about the solution 480
Plan for implementation 483
Summary 485
Mini case study: Ivy Business School 486
Exercises 491
Reflective questions 492
Further reading 492
References 492

14 Structured communications 494

Introduction 494
Communications during the project 495
Developing the final presentation 497
Extended case study: AcStrat Consulting 505
Developing the interim presentation 509
Developing a story line 510
Designing a presentation slide 512
Using visualizations 516
Summary 526
Mini case study: Ivy Business School 527
Exercises 529
Reflective questions 531
Further reading 531

15 Structured implementation 533

Introduction 533
Consultants and change 534
From recommendation to implementation 537
Roles of management consultants during implementation 538
Clients and change 540
Case study: From solution development to implementation 544
Relation between solution development and implementation 545
Structured implementation 548
Why some implementation projects may fail 559
Evaluate the implementation 564
Summary 568
Mini case study: The merger of AcStrat and Delta 569
Reflective questions 571
Further reading 572
References 572