

Contents

Part I	Phenomenology and the Problem of Time	1
1	Time, Intentionality, and Immanence in Modern Idealism	3
2	The Imperfection of Immanence in Husserl's Phenomenology	31
3	The Living-Present: Absolute Time-Consciousness and Genuine Phenomenological Immanence	65
Part II	The Problem of Time and Phenomenology	101
4	Transcendence: Heidegger and the Turn, the Open, "The Finitude of Being ... First Spoken of in the Book on Kant"	103
5	The Truly Transcendental: Merleau-Ponty, un Écart, "The Acceptance of the Truth of the Transcendental Analysis"	139

Conclusion: The Ultratranscendental—Derrida, Phenomenology, and “The Breath in Intentional Animation Which Transforms the Body of the Word intoFlesh”	175
Index	207