

CONTENTS

- 1 The Radical Subject and Its Critical Theory: An Introduction 1
Ana Cecilia Dinerstein

Part I Epistemological Openings

- 2 Learning Hope. An Epistemology of Possibility for Advanced Capitalist Society 19
Sarah Amsler

- 3 Decolonising Critique: From Prophetic Negation to Prefigurative Affirmation 33
Sara C. Motta

- 4 Denaturalising Society: Concrete Utopia and the Prefigurative Critique of Political Economy 49
Ana Cecilia Dinerstein

Part II The (Re)production of Life

- 5 Transgressing Gender and Development: Rethinking Economy Beyond ‘Smart Economics’ 65
Suzanne Bergeron

| | | |
|---|--|------------|
| 6 | Producing the Common and Reproducing Life: Keys Towards Rethinking the Political | 79 |
| | Raquel Gutiérrez Aguilar, Lucia Linsalata and Mina Lorena Navarro Trujillo | |
| 7 | Talking About Nature: Ecolinguistics and the Natureculture Paradigm | 93 |
| | Francesca Zunino Harper | |
| Part III Social Movements and Prefigurative Politics | | |
| 8 | The Prefigurative Is Political: On Politics Beyond ‘The State’ | 109 |
| | Emily Brissette | |
| 9 | The Prefigurative Turn: The Time and Place of Social Movement Practice | 121 |
| | Marianne Maeckelbergh | |
| 10 | Rethinking Social Movements with Societies in Movement | 135 |
| | Marina Sitrin | |
| | Index | 151 |