

Contents

List of figures	ix
Preface to the second edition	xi
Acknowledgements for the second edition	xiii
Acknowledgements for the first edition	xv
Timeline	xvii
“Playing on the piano-forte”: Introduction	1
1 A “green and pleasant land” of cities and slums: Space	12
2 “Discussions on the subject of reform”: Politics	35
3 Ruling the world: Imperialism	65
4 Wealth and poverty, growth and slumps: The economy	84
5 “Bristling with shops”: Consumption	106
6 “Born into the lower-upper-middle”: Class	123
7 “Oh, I do like to be beside the seaside”: Leisure	145
8 “A common cause with all the females in this kingdom”: Gender	165
9 A “dignified part”: Monarchy	182
10 “The court was crowded all day”: The law and the police	195

viii Contents

11	“Good, murderous melodramas”: Arts, entertainment, and print culture	211
12	Marriage, free love, and “unnatural crimes”: Sexuality	240
13	“Begin and end with the Church whatever you do between-whiles”: Religion	260
14	Vestiges and origins: Science and medicine	279
	Index	305