

Contents

Abbreviations	IX
1 Introduction	1
History of Research	2
The Purpose of This Study	13
Public and Private Reading, Setting, and Manuscript	15
2 Pragmatics of Reading	17
Practical Aspects of Manuscripts	18
Distinctive Features in Early Christian Manuscripts	19
The Challenges of Reading Aloud from a Manuscript	26
The Impact of Distinctive Features on Public Reading	29
Case Studies: P46, P66, and P75	40
Aids to Private Reading	54
Conclusions	60
3 Lectors in Early Christian Communities	63
Sociocultural Aspects of Reading	63
Public Reading	66
Lectors in the Greek and Roman World	77
Lectors and Public Reading in Early Christianity	93
Conclusions	116
4 A Method of Sound Analysis	119
A Grammar of Sound	120
Sound Mapping	123
Aural Intensity	125
Developing Sound Maps	126
Analyzing Aural Intensity	164
Conclusions	179
5 John 1—Introducing Jesus	181
The Prologue (1:1–18)	182
Testimonies to Jesus (1:19–51)	201
Aural Intensity in John 1	218
Conclusions	228

- 6 John 2—Jesus in Action 231
- Jesus Performs the First Sign (2:1–12) 231
 - Jesus Clears the Temple (2:13–25) 238
 - Aural Intensity in John 2 244
 - Conclusions 247
- 7 John 3—Jesus in Discourse 249
- Jesus Talks to Nicodemus (3:1–21) 249
 - John's Testimony (3:22–36) 262
 - Aural Intensity in John 3 270
 - Conclusions 273
- 8 John 4—Jesus in Samaria 277
- The Meeting at the Well (4:1–42) 277
 - Jesus Performs the Second Sign (4:43–54) 300
 - Aural Intensity in John 4 306
 - Conclusions 317
- 9 Conclusions and Implications 321
- Conclusions 321
 - Implications for Further Research 331