

Table of contents

CHAPTER 1
Personal pronouns: An exposition	1
Laure Gardelle & Sandrine Sorlin
PART I Personal pronouns beyond syntax: Competing forms in context
CHAPTER 2
She said “I don’t like her and her don’t like me”: Complex interpersonal relations expressed through personal pronoun exchange in the Black Country dialect	27
Lyndon Higgs
CHAPTER 3
Free self -forms in discourse-pragmatic functions: The role of viewpoint and contrast in picture NPs	45
Nuria Hernández
CHAPTER 4
Sex-indefinite references to human beings in American English: Effective uses and pragmatic interferences. A case study of your child	69
Laure Gardelle
PART II First and second person pronouns across genres: Advertising, TV series and literature
CHAPTER 5
‘ Loquor, ergo sum ’: ‘I’ and animateness re-considered	95
Katie Wales
CHAPTER 6
‘You’ and ‘I’ in charity fundraising appeals	105
Andrea Macrae
CHAPTER 7
Breaking the fourth wall: The pragmatic functions of the second person pronoun in House of Cards	125
Sandrine Sorlin

CHAPTER 8

- How do person deictics construct roles for the reader?:
 The unusual case of an “unratified reader” in Schnitzler’s
Leutnant Gustl and Fräulein Else 147
Emmanuelle Prak-Derrington

PART III Referring to the self and the addressee in context of interaction

CHAPTER 9

- First and second person pronouns in two mother-child dyads 173
Stéphanie Caët & Aliyah Morgenstern

CHAPTER 10

- Pronouns and sociospatial ordering in conversation and fiction 195
Dwi Noverini Djenar

CHAPTER 11

- Referring to oneself in the third person: A novel construction in text-based computer-mediated communication 215
Tuija Virtanen

PART IV The pragmatics of impersonal and antecedentless pronouns

CHAPTER 12

- Interpreting antecedentless pronouns in narrative texts: Knowledge types, world building and inference-making 241
Catherine Emmott

CHAPTER 13

- The infinite present: The pronoun on and the present tense in L'excès – l'usine by Leslie Kaplan 259
Anje Müller Gjesdal

CHAPTER 14

- Pragmatic and stylistic uses of personal pronoun one 275
Elise Mignot

CHAPTER 15

- Impersonal uses of the second person singular and generalized empathy:
 An exploratory corpus study of English, German and Russian 311
Lisa Deringer, Volker Gast, Florian Haas & Olga Rudolf

- Index 335