

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements ix

1 Getting started 1

Reading the play 2

Stage directions 11

2 Characters and persons 20

Expectations about character 20

Three aspects of dramatic character 21

Mapping characters 23

Developing the aspects of dramatic character 25

Character articulation 30

Further aspects of dramatic character 39

Character at work 41

3 Dialogue 43

The workings of dialogue 43

Functions of dialogue 44

More functions of dialogue 50

The workings of conversation 58

Speech acts 66

The stylistics of theatrical prose and verse 74

4 Plot and action 79

Plot, action and situation 79

Modelling action 83

Story, plot and narration 94

Character and scenes 103

- 5 The actor's body 111
Stage directions 111
- 6 Spaces 131
Space and A Doll's House 131
A systematic approach to space 139
Models and maps of theatrical space 168
- 7 Dealing with some newer kinds of drama 172
Monodrama 173
Testimony and tribunal 178
'Post-dramatic' theatre 182
- 8 Culture and interpretation 191
Writers 192
Location 194
Performers 200
Audiences 207
Interpretation 217
- Glossary* 221
Bibliography 224
Index 232

Words in bold are in the Glossary, along with other useful words.