

Contents

Author Bio	v
Introduction	xi
Section I: Globalization with Distortion-Free Labor Markets
Chapter 1. Globalization and Factor Returns in Competitive Markets	3
Rod Falvey and Udo Kreickemeier
Chapter 2. Offshoring Domestic Jobs	27
Hartmut Egger, Udo Kreickemeier and Jens Wrona
Section II: International Trade and Minimum Wages
Chapter 3. Unemployment and the Welfare Effects of Trade Policy	73
Udo Kreickemeier
Chapter 4. Tariff Reforms with Rigid Wages	95
Rod Falvey and Udo Kreickemeier

- Chapter 5. The Le Châtelier Principle in the Theory of International Trade 117
Udo Kreickemeier

Section III: International Trade and Unionized Labor Markets

- Chapter 6. Unions, Competition, and International Trade in General Equilibrium 143
Paulo Bastos and Udo Kreickemeier

- Chapter 7. Non-Traded Goods, Globalization, and Union Influence 173
Udo Kreickemeier and Frode Meland

Section IV: Globalization and Fair Wages

- Chapter 8. Fair Wages, Unemployment, and Technological Change in a Global Economy 205
Udo Kreickemeier and Douglas Nelson

- Chapter 9. International Fragmentation: Boon or Bane for Domestic Employment? 237
Hartmut Egger and Udo Kreickemeier

- Chapter 10. Firm Heterogeneity and the Labor Market
Effects of Trade Liberalization 265
Hartmut Egger and Udo Kreickemeier

- Chapter 11. Redistributing Gains from Globalization 307
Hartmut Egger and Udo Kreickemeier

Chapter 12. Fairness, Trade, and Inequality	339
Hartmut Egger and Udo Kreickemeier
Chapter 13. Why Foreign Ownership May be Good for You	381
Hartmut Egger and Udo Kreickemeier	