

Contents

List of figures	page viii
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction: How the child lost its tail	I
1 The child's view of nature: Margaret Gatty and the challenge to natural theology	31
2 Amphibious tendencies: Charles Kingsley, Herbert Spencer, and evolutionary education	57
3 Generic variability: Lewis Carroll, scientific nonsense, and literary parody	86
4 The cure of wild: Rudyard Kipling and evolutionary adolescence at home and abroad	118
5 Home grown: Frances Hodgson Burnett and the cultivation of female evolution	146
Conclusion: Recapitulation reconsidered	176
Notes	190
Bibliography	229
Index	248