

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
The Senses	9
I. The Sense of Sight
1. Vision and Worldview	19
2. The Eyes as Windows on the Soul	28
3. The Looks of Love	31
4. If Looks Could Kill	41
5. "Looks" and the Concept of Physical Beauty	45
II. The Sense of Hearing
1. Orality and Literacy	59
2. Sound and Silence	74
3. Community as Chorus	89
4. Speaking in Tongues	93
5. Truth in Timbre	102
III. The Sense of Smell
1. A Gateway for the Ghosts	111
2. Perfume: "the Deadly Odor"	118
IV. The Sense of Taste
1. Food for Body and Soul	127
2. Failed Nurturance	136
3. The Male Menu	141
4. Eating and Sex	145
5. The "Crying Need for Honey"	149
6. Candy and Capitalism	151
7. The Sweetness of Love	157
V. The Sense of Touch
1. "Heightened Sensibility"	165
2. "Some Touching Every Day"	171
3. Women as Subjects of Desire	184
4. Pleasure and Pain	199
Conclusion	213
Works Cited	221