

Contents in brief

Preface	xiii
PART I MODELS OF THE ECONOMY
1 Macroeconomics: a succinct introduction	3
2 Solving rational expectations models	37
3 Partial information and signal extraction	78
PART II EVALUATING GOVERNMENT POLICY
4 Stabilization policy: can we?	99
5 Stabilization policy: should we?	125
6 Practical issues of effective stabilization	152
7 Fiscal policy and the government budget constraint	158
8 Unemployment, productivity and growth	185
9 Political economy in macroeconomics	208
PART III EXTENDING AND DEEPENING THE MODELS: THE OPEN ECONOMY AND MICRO-FOUNDATIONS
10 The macroeconomics of an open economy	231
11 The Lucas critique and representative agent models in cashless economies	246
12 Money in representative agent models	285
13 Open economy representative agent models	306
PART IV CONFRONTING MODELS WITH FACTS
14 Testing the rational expectations hypothesis in financial markets	321

15	How to test macroeconomic models	407
16	The problem of identification	422
17	What do we know about the causes of macroeconomic behaviour?	433
	Bibliography	445
	Index	485