

Contents

Part I Introduction

- 1 From Philosophy of Emotion to Epistemology: Some Questions About the Epistemic Relevance of Emotions 3
Laura Candiotto

Part II Emotional Rationality

- 2 How Emotions Know: Naturalizing Epistemology via Emotions 27
Cecilea Mun
- 3 What Can Information Encapsulation Tell Us About Emotional Rationality? 51
Raamy Majeed

Part III Emotion Regulatory Affordances

- 4 A Pragmatist View of Emotions: Tracing Its Significance for the Current Debate 73
Roberta Dreon
- 5 Getting Warmer: Predictive Processing and the Nature of Emotion 101
Sam Wilkinson, George Deane, Kathryn Nave and Andy Clark
- 6 Emotional Reflexivity in Reasoning: The Function of Describing the Environment in Emotion Regulation 121
Dina Mendonça and João Sãágua

Part IV The Epistemic Value of Emotions in Self-Understanding

- 7 Moving Stories: Agency, Emotion and Practical Rationality 145
Dave Ward
- 8 Disorientation and Cognitive Enquiry 177
Owen Earnshaw

Part V The Epistemic Value of Negative Emotions and Suffering

- 9 Learning from Adversity: Suffering and Wisdom 197
Michael S. Brady
- 10 The Grapes of Wrath and Scorn 215
Pascal Engel

Part VI	The Epistemic Value of Group Level Emotions and Moods
11	Emotions In-Between: The Affective Dimension of Participatory Sense-Making Laura Candiotta	235
12	Group Emotions and Group Epistemology Anja Berninger	261
13	In Search for the Rationality of Moods Anthony Hatzimoysis	281
Index		297