Contents

1 Introduction 1
Notes 12
Other Authors 14

2 The Practice of Philosophy 15
1 Working Language 16
2 The New Certainty 20
3 The World Observed "From Above, in Flight" 23
4 Repeating, Working Through 29
5 Seeing The World Anew 32
Notes 35
Other Authors 38

3 From Seeing to Practice 41
1 The Sense Outside the World 42
2 Projection 44
3 Grasping the Sense of the World 48
4 The Subject at the Limit of the World 52
5 The Subject Interacting with the Things of the World 56
6 The Intentionality of the World 60
Notes 67
Other Authors 73

Gebauer, Gunter
Wittgenstein's anthropological philosophy
digitalisiert durch:
IDS Basel Bern

4 The Turn to Anthropology 75
1 Gestures as Body Use 77
2 The Method of Operating with Words 80
3 Learning to Do the Same 85
4 The Empirical Conditions for Like Action 88
5 The "Common Body" 92
6 Gestures, Grammar, Practice 98
Notes 101
Other Authors 106

5 Intention and Perspectives of the Language-Game 109
1 From Grammar to the Language-Game 110
2 Openness and Productivity of Language 113
3 The Intention of the Language-Game 116
4 Perspectives 119
5 Recognition and Perceptual Decision-Making 122
Notes 125
Other Authors 129

6 The Interaction Between Rules and Habitus 131
1 The Problem of Rule-Following 134
2 Critique of the Assumption of a Private Circulation of Language 138
3 Excursus on a Text by Marx and Its Possible Reception by Wittgenstein 145
4 Background and Habitus 148
5 The Normative Aspect of Rules 152
Notes 158
Other Authors 161

7 Materialism and Belief 163
1 What We Cannot Think Differently 164
2 Groundless Certainty 168
3 Grasping and Being-Contained 172
4 Agreement 177
5 Mechanism and Organism 180

Notes 187
Other Authors 191

8 Wittgenstein's Pictures 195
1 "Primitive Reactions" – Language-Games of Feeling 196
2 The Figurative Quality of the Language of Sensations 204
3 Self-Relation and Self-Obligation in the Language-Game 213
4 The Second Picture 219
5 Aspect-Blindness 225
6 Seeing Oneself Differently 232
Notes 239
Other Authors 246

9 Epilogue 249
Notes 257
Other Authors 259

Bibliography 261

Index 265