

Contents

Tables and Figures	page ix
Contributors	xi
Foreword by Harold James	xv
1 Introduction: Power, Institutions, and Global Markets – Actors, Mechanisms, and Foundations of Worldwide Economic Integration, 1850–1930 Christof Dejung and Niels P. Petersson	I
PART I: LEGAL INSTITUTIONS AND PRIVATE ACTORS
2 Legal Institutions and the World Economy, 1900–1930 Niels P. Petersson	21
3 Against Globalisation: Sovereignty, Courts, and the Failure to Coordinate International Bankruptcies, 1870–1940 Jérôme Sgard	40
4 Credit Information, Institutions, and International Trade: The United Kingdom, United States, and Germany, 1850–1930 Rowena Olegario	60
PART II: COLONIAL MARKETS AND NON-WESTERN ACTORS
5 The London Stock Exchange and the Colonial Market: The City, Internationalisation, and Power Bernard Attard	89
6 The London Gold Market, 1900–1931 Bernd-Stefan Grewe	112

7	The Boundaries of Western Power: The Colonial Cotton Economy in India and the Problem of Quality Christof Dejung	133
8	The Colonised as Global Traders: Indian Trading Networks in the World Economy, 1850–1939 Claude Markovits	158
9	The International Patent System and the Global Flow of Technologies: The Case of Japan, 1880–1930 Pierre-Yves Donzé	179
PART III: THE FIRST WORLD WAR AND THE CONSEQUENCES FOR ECONOMIC GLOBALISATION
10	Transnational Cooperation in Wartime: The International Protection of Intellectual Property Rights during the First World War Isabella Löhr	205
11	The Resilience of Globalisation during the First World War: The Case of Bunge & Born in Argentina Phillip Dehne	228
12	Global Economic Governance and the Private Sector: The League of Nations' Experiment in the 1920s Michele d'Alessandro	249
	Index	271