

Contents

1	Prostitution: A Historical Phenomenon from Late Antiquity to the Late Middle Ages and Early Modern Ages, Mirrored in Literary Documents	1
2	Modern Voices and Witnesses of Prostitution in Literature	41
3	The Canoness Hrotsvit and the Prostitute: An Early Medieval Playwright and Her Responses to the “Sordid” World of Prostitution	49
4	Christine de Pizan’s Advice to Prostitutes: A Late Medieval Perspective by a Woman Writer regarding Prostitution	69
5	Prostitution in the Work of Late Medieval Poetry: Oswald von Wolkenstein (1376/77–1445)	79
6	Prostitution in the Works by François Villon: Autobiographical-Erotic Discourse from the Underside of Courtly Culture	93
7	The Prostitute as Protagonist: The Intriguing Case of Fernando de Rojas’s Celestina (1499)	109
8	The Sojourn in a Brothel: An Unusual Perspective in a Late Medieval German Verse Narrative	131
9	The Prostitute and Prostitution in Late-Medieval and Early Modern German Song Poetry: Clara Hätzlerin, Franz Joachim Brechtel, Alexander Utendal, Venus-Gärtlein , and Hans Sachs	141
10	Prostitutes in fabliaux , mæren , and novelli : The Rise of Realism in Late Medieval and Early Modern Literature Seen through the Lens of Commodified Sexuality	157
11	Prostitutes in Sixteenth-Century Schwänke (Prose Jest Narratives)	181
	Epilogue	205
	Bibliography	209
	Index	233
	About the Author	237