

Contents

List of Tables	ix
List of Abbreviations	xi
List of Polish Journals	xiii
Editor's Note	xv

PART 1

Problems of Post-War Reconstruction	1
Remarks on Rationing and the Price System	3
Observations on Savings and Money Circulation in Poland	12
Financial Plans for the Second Half of 1946 and the First Half of 1947	14

PART 2

System of Functioning of the National Economy	45
Liberalization in the Management of Small Industry	47
Material Incentives in a Socialist Economy	50
Workers' Councils and Central Planning	56
Do Not Overestimate the Role of the Model	69
The Vertically Integrated Firm as an Element in the New Economic Model	74
Material Incentives in the New Economic Model	77
Outline of a New System of Incentives and Directives	82
Some Comments on the Organization of an English Concern	89

PART 3
Prices	93
Observations on the Pricing of Basic Raw Materials	95
Debate on the Prices of Basic Raw Materials	105
On the Prices of Basic Raw Materials	109
Central Price Determination as an Essential Feature of a Socialist Economy	114
Problems of a Uniform Price System within the CMEA Countries	120
Remarks on Factory Prices, Production Indicators, and Quality Control	124
PART 4
Investment and National Income	129
Problems in the Theory of Growth of a Socialist Economy	131
The Influence of the Construction Period on the Relationship between Investment and National Income	158
On the Coefficient of Capital Tied Up in Construction	170
PART 5
Long-Term Planning	181
On the Method of Constructing a Perspective Plan	183
Perspective Plan for 1961–1975	188
The Basic Problems of the 1961–1965 Five-Year Plan	209
A Few Observations on Planned Economy and Planning	217
Outline of a Method of Constructing a Perspective Plan (Based on Polish Experience)	221
On the Basic Principles of Long-Term Planning	232
Observations on the 1966–1970 Economic Plan	243

Editorial Notes and Annexes	255
Annex 1. The Minimum Essentials for Democratic Planning	269
Annex 2. A Contribution to the Debate on Theses on Certain Directions of Change in the Economic Model	298
Annex 3. On Changes in the Operating Principles of State Local Industry and Producers' Co-operatives	313
Annex 4. On Economic Incentives	327
Annex 5. Allocation of Resources and Prices	342
Annex 6. Profits, Factory Prices, and their Application in Planning and the Financial System	351
Annex 7. Some Comments on the Perspective Plan, 1961–1975	373
Index of Names	429
Index of Subjects	431