

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
List of illustrations	xi
Part I Screens and the Cult of St Thomas
Introduction	3
1. Previous studies and the location of the finds	9
The king reliefs	9
Earlier scholarship	9
Prior Chillenden's constructions	13
Conclusion	15
2. Dating of the sculpture and architectural fragments	21
Carving techniques	21
Figurative sculpture	22
Foliage decoration	30
Architectural motifs	30
Regional impact	39
Conclusion	39
3. Christ Church, Canterbury (1170–1175)	49
Becket's murder in the north arm of the transept	49
Analysis of Gervase's description	50
Crossing of the western transept	50
South arm of the transept	51
North arm of the transept (the Martyrdom)	51
Late twelfth-century alterations in the crossing	52
Prior Odo (1168–1175)	53
Pilgrimage (1171–1175)	54
Conclusion	57
4. Reconstruction of the screens in the western transept	67
The Martyrdom	68
North–south partitioning screen and north screen	70
East side of partitioning screen and north screen	70
West side of partitioning screen	71
Southern entrance to the tunnel	80
Excavations	81
South screen	87

East side of the crossing	88
Rood screen	88
Conclusion	94
5. The quatrefoils: prophecy and the theology of redemption	103
The gestures of the prophets	104
The rood screen as a liturgical focus	105
Prophetic testimony in images and texts	110
Liturgical drama	110
Ysagoge in Theologiam	112
Inscribed images of prophets and liturgical texts	113
The Incarnation: Advent and Christmas	116
Mass at the Altar of the Holy Cross	119
The Passion: Holy Week	120
Conclusion	123
6. The roundels: the Church's Other	137
Lions, demons, Jews and a pagan	138
Synagoga	139
The unbeliever	145
Canterbury's Jewish community	147
Conclusion	147
Conclusion	153
Plates, Reconstructions	158
Part II Twelfth-Century Finds from the Perpendicular Great Cloister	165
Introduction to the catalogue	167
Catalogue	169
A. Statue segments	170
B. Quatrefoils	184
C. Roundels	196
D. Shaft-rings	210
E. Arch elements	218
Hood-moulds and head-stops	218
Beaded hood-moulds	224
Voussoirs	234
F. String-course and related elements	236
G. Capitals and base	242
H. Purbeck elements	246
Comparative charts with dimensions of the limestone finds	250
Bibliography	253
Index	263