

Table of Contents

Foreword	9
Hans-Dieter Weger, Werner Weidenfeld
The Future of Europe: Strategies and Options	11
Werner Weidenfeld
Problems and Perspectives of European Unity – a Synopsis of Model European Policy Tasks and Their Proposed Solutions
Christine Holeschovsky
Josef Janning
Karin Stoll
Werner Weidenfeld
I. Introduction	27
1. The Current State of European Studies	27
2. The Approach of the Study	30
3. Subjects	31
II. Economic Policy and Monetary Policy	35
1. Economic Policy	35
1.1. Issues	35
Unemployment; Inter-Community Disparities; Dependence on Worldwide Economic Fluctuations
2. Monetary Policy	38
2.1. Issues	38
2.1.1. Monetary Policy Cooperation as a Strategy Problem of Economic Policy	41
Asymmetry of the EMS Construction; Low Enforcement Effect of the Exchange Rate and Intervention Mechanisms; Controls on the Movement of Capital

2.1.2.	Monetary Policy Cooperation as a Problem of Economic Structure	43
	Non-Participating Currencies; Special-Status Currencies and the Liberalization of the Movement of Capital; EMS Entry of Greece, Spain and Portugal
2.1.3.	Monetary Policy Cooperation as a Problem of Identity	45
2.2.	Proposed Solutions	46
2.2.1.	Proposals for a Further Development of the EMS from the Point of View of Strong Currency Countries	46
	Measures to Improve the General Economic and Monetary Policy Conditions; Institutional Reforms
2.2.2.	Proposals for the Further Development of the EMS from the Point of View of Weak Currency Countries	50
	Recognition of the ECU as the Official Reserve Currency; "Perfecting" the EMS; Action Programme for the Creation of the European Monetary Union
3.	Summary	55
III.	Internal Market	57
1.	Issues	58
1.1.	The Completion of the Internal Market as an Internal Problem of Implementation	58
	Inefficiency and Institutional Overburdening of the Community Organs; Adherence to the EEC Treaty
1.2.	The Internal and External Problems Resulting from a Completed Internal Market	61
	Regional Resultant Problems; Arrangement of External Economic Relations; Problems of Enlargement
1.3.	Identity-Creating Potential of the Internal Market? .	66
2.	Proposed Solutions	66
2.1.	Proposals on the Problem of Implementation	66
	Overcoming the Inefficiency and the Institutional Overburdening of the Community Organs; Implementation of Community Law; Liberalization of Public Procurement; Liberalization of Services, Financial Services and Movement of Capital; Promotion of Industrial Cooperation; Harmonization of Value Added and Excise Tax Rates;
2.2.	Proposals on Resulting Internal and External Effects	73
	Doubling of the Structural Funds; The Community's Technology Policy; Community-Wide Reduction of Quota Regulations; Regulation of Relations between EEC and EFTA

2.3. Europe of the Citizens	76
3. Summary	76
IV. Technology	79
1. Issues	79
1.1. Problems of Technological Strategy to Safeguard Wealth and Employment	80
International Competitiveness; International Technology Transfer
1.2. Problems of Technological Infrastructure to Safe- guard Freedom of Action	82
Fragmentation of R&D Activities and Segmentation of Mar- kets; Inter-Community Disparities; Dependence on Arma- ments Technology
1.3. Problems of Technological Independence to De- velop a European Identity	84
2. Proposed Solutions	84
European Community Research Programmes; European Aerospace Cooperation: Airbus, European Space Agency (ESA); European Research Cooperation within the Frame- work of EUREKA
3. Summary	90
V. Agricultural Policy	93
1. Issues	94
1.1. Shortcomings of the EEC's Common Agricultural Policy	94
Market Imbalances and Surplus Production; Income Dispar- ities; Lack of Compensatory Structural Policy; Limits to the EEC's Financing Capacity; External Trade in Agricultural Products
1.2. Particularities and Deficiencies of the Institutional Framework	100
Decision-Making Procedure; Asymmetrical Organization of Interests; Structural Inefficiency
1.3. The Functions of Agriculture in a Society Based on the Principle of Division of Labour	102
Self-Image; Expectations of Society
2. Proposed Solutions	104
A Market-Oriented Approach to Agriculture; A Modified Community Model; A High-Price Policy with Direct Quanti- tative Controls; A Balanced World Market for Agricultural Commodities; Isolating Agricultural Expenditure in the Bud- get; Differentiation of Instruments; Institutional Decentrali- zation; Ecologically Oriented Agriculture
3. Summary	109

VI. Environmental Policy	111
1. Issues	111
1.1. The Transboundary Nature of the Environment's Progressive Destruction	111
The Globalization of the Phenomena of the Crisis; Deficits of Current Strategies; Trying to Limit Environmental Damage by Using Advantages of Given Geographical Locations
1.2. The Problem of Adequate Forums for Discussion and Decision-Making	114
Forms of European Cooperation in Environmental Protection; The European Community's Environmental Policy
1.3. The Relationship between Ecology and Economy – the Price of Higher Quality of Life	118
Differences Regarding the Perception of the Ecological Threat and Difficulties Involved in Organizing Diffuse Interests; Predominance of Particular Economic Interests and Lack of Cost/ Benefit Analyses for the Economy as a Whole
2. Proposed Solutions	121
Environmental Foreign Policy; The European Community's Fourth Programme of Action for Environmental Protection; An Environmentally Compatible Industrial Society; A Market-Oriented Approach to Environmental Policy; Re-Orientation of Industry and Society
3. Summary	127
VII. Foreign Policy and Security Policy	129
Challenges in World Politics	130
1. Foreign Policy	131
1.1. Issues	131
1.1.1. Problems Involved in Foreign Policy Structures	132
Dual Structure: The Development of EPC; Coherence
1.1.2. Problems of Strategy and of Acceptance of European Foreign Policy	134
Divergences of Styles and Traditions in Foreign Policy; Implementation: Problems of Credibility of Western European Foreign Policy; Defining Europe's Foreign Policy Identity; Public Acceptance
1.2. Proposed Solutions	138
2. Security	139
2.1. Issues	139
2.1.1. Strategic Problems of European Security	140
Nuclear Deterrence; The Evolution of the United States' Nuclear Strategy; (De-)Coupling; Conventional Imbalance; Arms Control and Disarmament; Security Diplomacy in East-West Relations; Acceptance

2.1.2.	Structural Problems of European Security . . . Segmented Structures; Asymmetrical Structures; Leadership; The United States' Military Presence in Europe; Financing Defence Expenditure; Armaments Cooperation and Procurement	146
2.1.3.	Identity Problems of European Security Policy	151
2.2.	Proposed Solutions	152
2.2.1.	Achieving European Security by Strengthening the European Pillar Inside NATO Enhancing Europe's Role by Means of Transnational Cooperation; Re-Defining European Responsibilities within NATO; The European Pillar and its Relationship with the United States; European Pillar and Nuclear Options; An Active Role to Be Played by the United States?	155
2.2.2.	Achieving European Security by Re-Organizing European Interests and Potentials within a Separate Defence Organization Revival of the Western European Union; European Security in the Context of the European Community; Franco-German Cooperation as the Centrepiece of a Common European Security Policy; European Security as a Substitute for NATO	160
2.2.3.	Achieving European Security by Re-Defining East-West Relations in Europe and by Substituting Defensive for Offensive Potentials . . Common Security as a "Superstructure" of European Security; Variations of the Concept of Common Security	166
2.2.4.	Achieving European Security by Disengaging the Military Potentials in Europe Zones of Reduced Forces; Sectoral Measures	168
2.2.5.	Achieving European Security by Implementing Alternative Concepts	171
3.	Summary	173
VIII.	Summary	175
1.	Issues	175
2.	Proposed Solutions	178
3.	Outlook	181

IX. List of Abbreviations	183
X. Bibliography	187
Chapter II: Economic Policy and Monetary Policy...	187
Chapter III: Internal Market	192
Chapter IV: Technology	201
Chapter V: Agricultural Policy	205
Chapter VI: Environmental Policy	212
Chapter VII: Foreign Policy and Security Policy	218