

Contents

Preface by Ludvík Svoboda "František Novotný"	P. 5
Preface by František Novotný	15
I. Plato in Antiquity
1. Plato's first successors	19
2. Aristotle and the older Peripatetics	26
3. New schools: Zeno, Epicurus, Pyrrho	40
4. The Academy as the school of uncertainty	48
5. Back to certainty	52
6. In Rome. Cicero	59
7. Contacts with the Old Testament	74
8. Across the boundaries of the schools	79
9. Before Plotinus	97
10. The first contacts with Christianity	122
11. Plotinus and the Neo-Platonists	151
12. The Christian Fathers	177
13. Ancient laudatory and calumnious legends on Plato	219
14. Interpretation, criticism, polemics	236
15. Other responses and effects	262
II. Plato in the Middle Ages and in the New Age
16. Entry into the Middle Ages in the East	279
17. The West before the Renaissance	300
18. The beginning of the Italian Renaissance	327
19. Plato and Aristotle, contact and temporary reconciliation	334
20. Marsilio Ficino. The Florentine Academy	355
21. The diffusion of Renaissance Platonism	379
22. From Descartes to Kant	449
23. The age of the autocracy of reason	485
24. The new Humanism	512
25. Modern Platonic scholarship	519
26. Plato in modern philosophy	546

27. New translations. From science to literature	p. 590
28. Plastic, graphic and mechanical arts. Music. Education	633
29. Life without end	639
Name index	644
Subject index	657
Picture index	665