

The table of this boke.

- The preface of the translatour.
- The procreation of children. the fyrste chap.
- Of nature, reason, and custome. ij. chap.
- Of nources and tutours. iii. chap.
- To chose schole maysters. the.iiii. chap.
- The defaute of lernynge. the.v. chap.
- The difficultie to pleate cōmunes. vi. chap.
- The iuste temperance in spekyng. vii. cha.
- The commodite of vertuous exercise. ca.viii.
- A moderate direction to prouoke childerne to lerne. ca. ix.
- Of the exercises of memozye, and of thre excellentie continences. cap. x.
- Howe premeditation ought to be vsed with a pleasant narration of Olixes. ca. xi.
- What inconueniences do happen through negligence of fathers. ca. xij.
- What company is pernicious and burtesfulle to children. ca. xiii.
- The meanes to diswade yonge men from vice, and an example to be gyué to parentes. ca. xiiii.

Thus endeth the Table.

