

Contents

List of Figures and Tables vii

Notes on Contributors xi

- 1 The Netherlands as a Laboratory of Knowing: Introduction to Locations of Knowledge in Dutch Contexts 1
 Fokko Jan Dijksterhuis and Andreas Weber

PART 1

Cities

- 2 Science in the Theatre of Towns 17
 Fokko Jan Dijksterhuis
- 3 The ‘Duytsche Mathematique’ and Leiden Family Networks, 1600–1620 40
 Gerhard Wiesenfeldt
- 4 The Middelburg Theatrum Anatomicum: A Location of Knowledge and Culture in an Early Urban Context 64
 Huib J. Zuidervaart

PART 2

Connections

- 5 Breyne’s Botany: (Re-)locating Nature and Knowledge in Danzig (circa 1660–1730) 107
 Alette Fleischer
- 6 An Amphibious Science: Where Storms Took Shape 136
 Azadeh Achbari
- 7 Science to Bring the Nation Together: The Formation of Nomadic Congresses in the Netherlands and Flanders 155
 Ilja Nieuwland

- 8 Between Openness and Classification: Early Dutch Ultracentrifuge
Development in International Context 185
Abel Streefland

PART 3

Transformations

- 9 The Disputation Hall in the Seventeenth-Century Dutch Republic:
An Urban Location of Knowledge 211
Dirk Van Miert
- 10 The Lorentz Transformation of a Museum 232
Martin P.M. Weiss
- 11 Scientists in Cowsheds: Disputes over Hygienic Milk Production in the Netherlands, 1918–1928 262
Floor Haalboom
- 12 Blending Research: Linking Dutch Industrial and Academic Polymer
Laboratories, 1940–1980 290
Marijn J. Hollestelle