Contents

Acknowledgements

1 European Integration and the Reconfiguration of National Industrial Relations: Posted Work as a Driver of Institutional Change
JENS ARNHOLTZ AND NATHAN LILLIE

1.1 The Socioeconomic Drivers of EU Posting 5
1.2 Competing Legal Principles and the Fundamental Tension of Posted Work 6
1.3 Firm Practices as the Driver of Change 9
1.4 Pressure on Domestic Institutions and Incremental Change 11
1.5 Enforcement Actors and Creative Re-Enactment of Institutions 13
1.6 National Institutional Change in Response to Posted Work 15
1.7 Feedback and European Level Changes 18
1.8 The Chapters and their Contribution to the Argument 20
1.9 Conclusions 25

2 The Benefits of Posting: Facts and Figures on the Use and Impact of Intra-EU Posting
FREDERIC DE WISPELAERE AND JOZEF PACELET

2.1 Introduction 31
2.2 ‘The Posted Worker’: A Multifaceted Notion with a Very Concentrated Impact 31
2.3 Benefits of Intra-EU Posting from the Perspective of the Member State of Origin 37
2.4 Benefits of Intra-EU Posting from the Perspective of the Host Member State 42
2.5 The More We Know about Posting, the Better We Can Discuss it: Perception vs Reality 44

3 Shifting Employer Strategies in Light of Institutional Change
KRISTIN ALSOS AND ANNE METTE ØDEGÅRD
3.1 The Norwegian Labour Market Model Meets a New Reality 51
3.2 Analytical Framework 53
3.3 Methods 55
3.5 Second Phase 2009–2013: Individual Labour Migrants and New Court Battles 58
3.6 Third Phase 2013–2018: The Puzzle on Equal Treatment and Closure? 61
3.7 Discussion and Conclusion 63

4 Ambiguous Mobility: Polish Transnational Workers Navigating and Changing the Institutional Landscape of Posting
ANNA MATYSKA
4.1 Transnational Mobility Regimes, Institutions, and Institutional Change 71
4.2 Posted Work and Institutional Ambiguity 72
4.3 The Departure: Allowing for the Ambiguity 73
4.4 Collaboration and Compliance 74
4.5 From Asking Around to Facing a State Institution 76
4.6 Trade Unionisation 78
4.7 Institutional Navigation and Incremental Changes 80
4.8 Concluding Remarks 84

5 A Comparative Analysis of Union Responses to Posted Work in Four European Countries
NATHAN LILLIE, LISA BERNTSEN, INES WAGNER, AND SONILA DANAJ
5.1 Introduction 89
5.2 How Does Posting Affect Union Rights? 90
6 Italian Labour Inspectors Facing Posted Workers Phenomena
FRANCESCO E. IANNUZZI AND DEVI SACCHETTO

6.1 Introduction 109
6.2 The Instrument of Posting in Italy: Sectoral and Geographical Trajectories 111
6.3 Business Strategies and Irregularities of Posting 113
6.4 Labour Inspectorate' Actions: Dealing with Complexity 116
6.5 Changing Regulatory Framework: New Approaches towards Posting 120
6.6 Conclusion 124

7 Market Integration, Cross-Border Recruitment, and Enforcement of Labour Standards – A Dutch Case
JAN CREMERS

7.1 Cross-Border Labour Mobility and Enforcement - Introduction 128
7.2 Working Method 131
7.3 The Role and Function of the Dutch Labour Inspectorate 132
7.4 The Dutch Instruments for Enhanced Compliance Control Based on the 2013 Social Pact 134
7.5 Assessment of the Intensified Compliance and Enforcement Policy 135
7.6 Business Models and Regulatory Engagement Strategies for Circumventing Enforcement 136
7.7 The Dutch Practice Against the Background of EU Experiences 140
7.8 Cross-Border Recruitment, Compliance, and Enforcement – Some Conclusions 142
8 Posting of Workers: From a Blurred Notion
Associated with ‘Cheap Labour’ to a Tool for ‘Fair Labour Mobility’?

MIJKE HOUWERZIJL AND LISA BERNTSEN

8.1 Introduction 147
8.2 The Legal Framework of Intra-EU Labour Mobility in an Enlarged Internal Market 148
8.3 Experiences and Perceptions of Posting in Practice 152
8.4 Towards a Comprehensive Set of Regulatory Responses at the EU Level: Enough to Disassociate Posting from Social Dumping? 159
8.5 Concluding Remarks 162

9 Stepping Stones Over Troubled Waters.
Recent Legal Evolutions and the Reform of the Posting of Workers Directive

MARCO ROCCA

9.1 Introduction 167
9.2 The Reform 169
9.3 Stepping Stones 174
9.4 Conclusions 178

10 Labour Subcontracting in Cross-Border Labour Markets: A Comparison of Rule Evasion in Germany and Japan

INES WAGNER AND KAREN SHIRE

10.1 Introduction 185
10.2 Dispatched Work in Japan 188
10.3 The Posting of Workers Regulation and Germany 191
10.4 The Layering of Immigration and Dispatching Regulations in Japan 193
10.5 Regulatory Arbitrage through Posting in Germany 195
10.6 Regulatory Displacement through Dispatching in Japan 197
10.7 Conclusion 199

Author Biographies 205
Index 209