

Contents

Abbreviations	vii
Introduction	ix
Robert E. Ward and Sakamoto Yoshikazu
1. Presurrender Planning: Treatment of the Emperor and Constitutional Changes	1
Robert E. Ward
2. The International Context of the Occupation of Japan	42
Sakamoto Yoshikazu
3. “Induced Revolution”: The Policy and Process of Constitutional Reform in Occupied Japan	76
Theodore H. McNelly
4. The Conflict between Two Legal Traditions in Making the Constitution of Japan	107
Tanaka Hideo
5. Early SCAP Policy and the Rehabilitation of the Diet	133
Hans H. Baerwald
6. The Tar Baby Target: “Reform” of the Japanese Bureaucracy	157
T. J. Pempel
7. The Occupation and the Reform of the Japanese Civil Code	188
Kurt Steiner
8. The Politics of Women’s Rights	221
Susan J. Pharr
9. The Making of the Postwar Local Government System	253
Amakawa Akira

10. The U.S. Occupation of Okinawa and Postwar Reforms in Japan Proper Ota Masahide	284
11. Japan's Postwar Conservative Parties Uchida Kenzō	306
12. Early Postwar Reformist Parties Takemae Eiji	339
13. The Zaikai under the Occupation: The Formation and Transformation of Managerial Councils Ōtake Hideo	366
14. Conclusion Robert E. Ward	392
Appendix 1 Draft of Justin Williams Memorandum	435
Appendix 2 Evolution of U.S. Central Postwar Planning Agencies	Back cover pocket
Index	437