Contents

1	The Irish Community at Home and Abroad	1
	The Irish Community: An Anthropological Perspective	5
	A Community of Individuals	8
	'Native' Takes on Irish Life: The Anthropology of Ireland	11
	Imagining Irish Community at Home and Abroad	15
	References	20
2	Identity Politics, Belonging and Europe	23
	European Identity	25
	Mobility: Moving Away from Fixist Models of Identity	31
	Becoming European	33
	Mobilising Europe: Alterity and Activity	36
	Ireland and Europe: Concept-Metaphors	40
	What Is a 'Good European'?	43
	The Irish Community in Belgium	45
	References	50
3	The Irish in Brussels: Culture, Language, Politics, Belonging	57
	(Speaking) Irish in Brussels	59
	Schooling Europeans	61
	The Irish in Brussels, January 1973	64
	How Ireland Became European	68

Ireland's Development, from Poverty to Prosperity and Back 70
Experiencing Europe: Irish Culture and Language 73
'Become Irish' on Saint Patrick's Day in Brussels 77
Become Irish for an Hour or Two. Seachtain na Gaeilge 80
The 'Green Book': Political Engagement in Ireland and Brussels 81
Training Europeans: European Movement International 83
Concluding Remarks 86
References 90

4 Placing the Irish Diaspora in Place and Time in Europe 93
31 January 2014 94
Locating the Irish College of Leuven in Time 98
Exile, the Past and Reconnection: Heritage and Lines of Belonging 102
'The Irish Are Now so Used to Exile That It Is Part of Their Heritage' 104
'Closed to the Public': Putting My 'Self' to Good Use 108
Teaching Irish(ness) in Leuven 109
The Irish Pub in Belgium: Cultural Homes Away from Homes 113
Concluding Remarks 118
References 122

5 Non-Irish, Irish Speakers Among the Irish Community in Belgium 125
'It's Fake. I Mean It Sounds the Same, But It's Fake' Language and Simulation 126
Philosophy and Simulacra 128
Anthropology, Otherness and Fakeness 131
Whereabouts in Donegal Are You from? Misattribution and Pride 135
'No Irish, No Blacks and No Dogs' 138
The Limits of Pretence: 'You Can't Pretend to Speak a Language!' 142
Passing, Pride and Dejection: Simulation and Language Acquisition 144
Concluding Remarks 148
References 152

6 Imagined Belonging and the Irish Diaspora 155
What Is a Diaspora? 159
Diaspora and Reception Abroad 160
The Use of Irish at Home and Abroad: 'Do Something Irish!' 167
Yu Ming Is Ainm Dom*: Imagining the Irish Language at 'Home'* 169
The Imaginaries of Bruges and In Bruges 173
Concluding Remarks 175
References 177

Conclusion 181

References 185

Index 205