

Contents

- 1 An Introduction to the Artist Who “Needed”
Wittgenstein 1
Diego Mantoan and Luigi Perissinotto

Part I Aesthetic Grammar: From Wittgenstein to Paolozzi

- 2 Aesthetic Family Resemblances Between Wittgenstein and Paolozzi 15
Silvana Borutti
- 3 The Philosopher as Artist: Ludwig Wittgenstein Seen
Through Eduardo Paolozzi 31
Wolfgang Huemer
- 4 Paolozzi and the Diverse Manners of Ornamenting
Wittgenstein in the Arts 45
Alessandro Del Puppo

v

5 Assembled Pieces: Collage Techniques in the Work of Eduardo Paolozzi and Ludwig Wittgenstein 55
Maren Wienigk

Part II Paolozzi: On Reading Wittgenstein

6 Paolozzi Reads Wittgenstein: Moments in a Research Process 71
Luigi Perissinotto

7 “Ragged” Perception in Eduardo Paolozzi’s Figures from the 1950s 95
Rachel Stratton

8 Poetic Metaphor: Paolozzi’s Animated Films and Their Relation to Wittgenstein 109
Stefanie Stallschus

9 Assembling Reminders for a Particular Purpose: Paolozzi’s Ephemera, Toys and Collectibles 125
Diego Mantoan

Part III Wittgenstein: On Influencing Art

10 Experience and Interpretation: An Art Theoretical Commentary on Wittgenstein’s Conception of “Aspect” 145
Michael Lüthy

11 On a Certain Vagueness in the Definition of Art: Margolis’ Aesthetics and Wittgenstein’s Legacy 167
Roberta Dreon

12	The Sides of Limit and the Possibilities for Artistic Creation: On the Influence of Wittgenstein’s Philosophy on Contemporary Art	185
	Davide Dal Sasso
13	Wittgenstein in New York (and Elsewhere) in the 1960s: From Eduardo Paolozzi to Mel Bochner	197
	Francesco Guzzetti
	Appendix: The Quotes in Paolozzi’s Screenprint Series As Is When (1964–1965)	209
	Index	219