

CONTENTS

List of contributors	viii
Acknowledgments	xii
Introduction	1
E. Nicole Meyer and Joyce Johnston
PART I
Exploring Identities/Exploring the Self: French Literature and Women's Studies in the Twenty-First Century	9
1 Why Teach (French) (Women's) Literature?	11
Eilene Hoft-March
2 Fractured Families: Program Growth through Innovative Teaching of French and Francophone Women's Autobiographies	19
E. Nicole Meyer
3 Worldwide Women Writers and the Web: Diversity and Digital Pedagogy	27
Alison Rice
4 "Representing the Self": Contemporary French Lit Meets the Twenty-First-Century Student	35
Dawn M. Cornelio

PART II
New Beginnings, New Horizons: Women Writers in Beginning and Intermediate French Classes	43
5 Teaching French and Francophone Women Authors Online Sage Goellner	45
6 Integrating Women's Voices and Contemporary Cultural Materials through E-journaling Elizabeth Berglund Hall	53
7 Linking Beginner and Advanced Language Learners through Images of Women Joyce Johnston	61
8 Building Bridges from Language to Civilization through Gisèle Pineau's Un Papillon dans la cité Natalie Edwards and Christopher Hogarth	68
PART III
Colonial and Postcolonial French Women Writers: Teaching Diversity on Shifting Ground	77
9 Peoples, Authors, Protagonists: Teaching Francophone Women Authors through Gender Identity Themes Laurence M. Porter	79
10 Incorporating Oceanian Women Writers into the Francophone Literature Classroom Julia L. Frengs	87
11 Making the Case for French Studies: Strategies for Teaching Gendered Multiculturalism in Contemporary French Literature Rebecca E. Léal	95
12 Teaching Algeria through the Lens of Feminism Florina Matu	103
13 Teaching Hélé Béji, Postcolonialism, and the Arab Spring: Perspectives from Baudrillard, McClintock, and Giroux Eric Touya de Marenne	111
PART IV
Interdisciplinary Approaches to French Studies	119
14 Breaking Down Jail and Cross-Divisional Walls: Teaching Simone de Beauvoir and Existentialist Writers in the Twenty-First-Century French and Criminal Justice Classroom Araceli Hernández-Laroche	121

15	Francophone Women Writers outside the French Classroom: An Integrated Approach to Exploring Women's Voices Shira Weidenbaum	128
16	Pushing Boundaries: A Feminist Interdisciplinary Approach to Team Teaching French and American Women's Lives during World War II Courtney Sullivan and Kerry Wynn	135
17	Women Novelists and the Music of Paris Arline Cravens	143
18	Introducing or Expanding Queer Content in the Contemporary Francophone Classroom CJ Gomolka	150
	Index	159