

Contents

Preface	viii
List of abbreviations	x
I EXTENSIVITY AND INTENSITY	1
1 Introduction
2 The three main cases	3
3 Sensations	5
4 The issue over intensive magnitudes	7
5 Psychophysics	11
6 Conclusions	13
II SPACE AND TIME	17
1 Introduction
2 Space and counting
3 Space and extension. Kinds of multiplicity	22
4 Duration	26
5 Zeno	32
6 Absolute and relative. Absolute motion	39
7 Absolute space	43
8 Absolute duration. The two stages in Bergson's thought	45
9 The first stage	47
10 The second stage	51
11 Conclusions on the two stages	55
12 Criticism. The symmetry of space and time	56
13 Bergson and Einstein	59

III FREE WILL	67
1 Introduction. Two forms of determinism
2 Bergson's strategy	69
3 Bergson on psychological determinism	71
4 Nature of causality. Causal and logical necessity	73
5 Determinism as due to confusion of two views of causality	75
6 Causal and logical necessity again	78
7 Libertarianism	81
8 Bergson's own view of free will	83
IV THE METAPHYSICS OF CHANGE AND SUBSTANCE	88
1 Introduction
2 The escape from realism and idealism	89
3 The role of images	92
4 Categories. Change and essence	94
5 Pure change?	98
6 The substrate and its role	101
7 Permanence	103
8 Substance	104
9 Things and processes	108
10 Conclusion	110
V PROBLEMS OF MIND AND BODY	112
1 Introduction
2 Perception	114
3 Memory	118
4 Perception and memory	125
5 Rhythms of duration	128
6 Perception and action	131
7 The reality of the past	133
8 Mind and body	135
VI EPISTEMOLOGY	141
1 Introduction
2 Intelligence and instinct
3 Consciousness: its two senses	147
4 Instinct and intuition	150
5 Intelligence and intuition: preliminaries	153
6 Immediacy	155
7 Concepts and language: the problem	157

8	Immediacy and the role of intuition	159
9	Concepts and language: development of the problem	162
10	The nature of philosophy	164
11	Conclusion: the role of mathematics	167
VII BIOLOGY		170
1	Introduction
2	The nature of life	171
3	Philosophical arguments	176
4	Scientific arguments	179
5	The élan vital	181
6	Conservation and entropy. Order and disorder	184
VIII THE COMIC		188
1	Introduction. Art and comedy
2	The basis of the theory	190
3	Development of the theory	193
IX MORALITY AND MYSTICISM		197
1	Introduction
2	Obligation	199
3	The question of justification	201
4	Closed and open morality	204
5	Justice and value	208
6	The hero	210
7	Myth-making	211
8	Magic	214
9	Mysticism	215
10	God	218
11	Epilogue	219
Bibliography		220
Index		227