

Contents

Preface	vii
Note on references	xi
Chapter One: Context, Aims, Interpretation	1
1. Context	2
2. Aims	12
3. Interpretation: method, meaning and empiricism	22
Chapter Two: Esse est Percipi : Against Matter	47
1. The New Principle	47
2. Ideas and things	50
3. Existence	81
4. Perceivability	95
5. Continuity	117
6. Berkeley's realism	129
7. Matter	138
Chapter Three: Esse est Percipere : The Nature of Substance	154
1. Finite spirit	158
2. The mind-idea relation	168
3. Mind and time	174
4. Infinite spirit	183
Chapter Four: Concluding Comments: Metaphysics and Realism	204
Bibliography	211
Index	215