

Contents

Abbreviations	page vii
Preface	xii
Introduction	I
1: Origins and birth (1880–1920)
Direct and indirect influences	13
The Foundation Congress (Tours, December 1920)	22
2: Apprenticeship (1921–33)
‘A party of a new type’?	32
Comintern guidance: internal life and United Front	35
Electoral fortunes	45
‘Anti-imperialism’	50
The PCF and intellectuals: pacifists, surrealists	52
3: Maturity: the Popular Front (1934–8)
Origins and nature of the Popular Front	59
A PCF initiative?	65
Rise and fall of the Popular Front	68
4: Trials: the acid test of war (1939–45)
The ‘pact’ and the ‘phoney war’	91
First year of Occupation (June 1940–June 1941)	107
‘ Le parti des fusillés ’	116
The PCF and de Gaulle	122
The PCF and France’s liberation	124
5: Rise and fall: from ministers (1945–7) to cold war ‘pariahs’ (1947–58)
Rise: The PCF as ‘a party of government’ (1945–7)	131
Fall: The cold war period (1947–55)	144
Recovery begins (1956–7)	161

6: Into battle: the PCF against the Gaullist Fifth Republic (1958-68)	166
Adjustments and re-adjustments (1958-62)	170
The battle commences (1962-5)	176
Open conflict (1965-8)	179
' Les événements ' (May-June 1968)	184
7: 'In the colours of France' (1969-78)	198
The Common Programme (1969-74)	200
The 22nd congress (1976)	208
Death of the Common Programme (1977-8)	214
8: Coming of age: from Cominform to 'Euro-Communism' and beyond (1947-84)
The Cominform (1947-56)	226
The CPSU 20th Congress and its sequels (1956-68)	228
'Euro-communism' and beyond (1968-84)	238
9: Coming of age: from Communist opposition to Communist ministers (1979-84)
The 23rd congress and its sequels (1979-81)	247
The 1981 elections	255
The 24th congress (February 1982)	265
The first three years of PCF government participation (1981-4)	268
In lieu of a conclusion	280
Appendices
1: The PCF's organisational structure	287
2: The PCF's social composition and implantation	290
3: PCF membership figures	291
4: PCF electoral support since 1924	292
5: PCF press and publishing activity	293
6: Chronological Table	294
7: Interview with three PCF leaders (April 1984)	307
Select bibliography	311
Index	317