

Contents

List of Figures	page xii
List of Tables	xv
List of Boxes	xvii
A Note to the Reader	xviii
1 Macroeconomic Concepts and Indicators	1
1.1 GDP: Aggregate Demand, Supply, and Income	3
1.1.1 The Economic Circuit	4
1.1.2 National Accounting	9
1.1.3 GDP as Aggregate Demand	16
1.1.4 GDP as Aggregate Supply	17
1.1.5 GDP as Aggregate Income	19
1.1.6 GDP and Gross National Income	19
1.1.7 From GNI to Personal Income	20
1.2 Real GDP	21
1.2.1 Separating Quantity from Price Changes	21
1.2.2 Working with Data	23
1.2.3 Potential Real GDP and the GDP Gap	25
1.3 Working with Data: GDP Statistics	26
1.4 Real GDP per Capita around the World	28
1.5 International Application: Millennium Goals and Better Life	33
1.6 Measuring the Price Level and Inflation	34
1.6.1 The GDP Implicit Price Deflator	34
1.6.2 Other Price Indexes	36
1.6.3 Working with Data: Price Indexes	38
1.6.4 International Application: Inflation	38
1.7 Employment, Unemployment, and Productivity	40
1.7.1 Employment and Unemployment	41
1.7.2 Working with Data: the Labor Market	45
1.7.3 International Application: European Unemployment Rates	48
1.7.4 Productivity	50
1.8 Summary	51
1.9 Review Questions	51
Notes	51

2	Aggregate Demand	53
2.1	Working with Data: AD Components	54
2.2	BEA Announcements	58
2.3	Causes of AD Changes	60
2.3.1	International Application: IMF Announcement	64
2.3.2	Working with Data: Consumer and Business Confidence	64
2.3.3	The Real Interest Rate	65
2.3.4	Aggregate Demand and the Real Interest Rate	69
2.3.5	Aggregate Demand and Aggregate Income	69
2.3.6	Aggregate Demand and the Price Level	74
2.3.7	Graphical Analysis	75
2.4	AD Policy	77
2.5	Summary	80
2.6	Review Questions	81
2.7	Appendix: IS–LM Analysis	82
	Notes	87
3	Aggregate Supply and Short-Run Equilibrium	88
3.1	Macro Concepts and Analysis	89
3.1.1	The Short-Run AS Sector	91
3.1.2	The AS Curve	92
3.1.3	Working with the Data: IMF World Economic Outlook October 2017	94
3.2	AS Policy	95
3.2.1	AS Policy Tools	96
3.2.2	International Application: US Competitiveness	98
3.2.3	International Application: Germany's Hartz Reforms	99
3.3	Macroeconomic Equilibrium: Putting Aggregate Demand and Aggregate Supply Together	100
3.3.1	Short-Run Supply Shocks	102
3.3.2	Short-Run Demand Shocks	104
3.3.3	Wages and the Price Level	105
3.3.4	Working with the Data: Oil Price Increases in 2004 and Beyond	109
3.4	Short-Run Equilibrium: the Phillips Curve	113
3.4.1	The Unemployment–Inflation Trade-off	113
3.4.2	Working with Data: the Phillips Curve in the US	115
3.4.3	NAIRU	119
3.4.4	Unemployment and Inflation Policy	120
3.5	Summary	124

3.6 Review Questions	126
Notes	127
4 Monetary Policy and Aggregate Demand	128
4.1 Macro Concepts and Analysis	129
4.1.1 Central Banks and Their Goals	133
4.1.2 Why Do Central Banks Care about Inflation?	134
4.1.3 Central Bank Policy Targets, Rules, and Discretion	136
4.1.4 Central Bank Structure and Organization	139
4.2 Monetary Policy Tools and Implementation	140
4.3 Short-Run Impacts of Monetary Policy	145
4.4 International Application	147
4.5 Working with Data: the 2008–9 Financial Crisis	147
4.6 Summary	152
4.7 Review Questions	153
Notes	153
5 Fiscal Policy and Aggregate Demand	155
5.1 Macro Concepts and Analysis	156
5.1.1 International Application: Is the US Government Large?	159
5.1.2 Working with Data: Fiscal Policy Tools	160
5.1.3 Federal Government Revenues	160
5.1.4 Federal Government Spending	161
5.1.5 Who Is Paying Federal Taxes?	162
5.1.6 Government Deficits and Debt	163
5.2 Fiscal Policy and AD Policy	166
5.2.1 Fiscal Policy in the Short Run	166
5.2.2 Macro Magic? The Government Expenditure Multiplier	170
5.2.3 Uncertainties about Short-Run AD Policies	172
5.2.4 International Application: Fiscal Reactions to the Great Recession	175
5.3 Summary	178
5.4 Review Questions	179
Notes	179
6 Monetary and Fiscal Policy in the Long Run	180
6.1 Macroeconomic Equilibrium in the Long Run	181
6.2 Monetary Policy in the Long Run	186
6.2.1 Conducting Monetary Policy in the Long Run	186
6.2.2 International Application: Central Bank Independence	188

6.3	Fiscal Policy in the Long Run	191
6.3.1	The Long-Run Government Budget Constraint	192
6.3.2	Working with Data: Debt Sustainability Analysis	197
6.3.3	International Application: the EU's Stability and Growth Pact	200
6.3.4	International Application: the Greek Debt Crisis	201
6.3.5	Public Debt and Economic Growth	205
6.4	Summary	206
6.5	Review Questions	207
	Notes	207
7	Economic Growth	209
7.1	Growth Prospects for the World Economy	210
7.2	Economic Policies to Promote Growth	210
7.3	International Application: Sixty Years of Growth in China	212
7.4	The Record of Economic Growth	216
7.4.1	Two Thousand Years of Global Economic Growth	216
7.4.2	Intensive versus Extensive Economic Growth	219
7.4.3	Sources of Economic Growth: Labor, Capital, Technological Progress	221
7.4.4	Working with Data: US Labor Productivity Growth	225
7.5	Limits to Economic Growth?	229
7.5.1	Limit 1: Population Growth	229
7.5.2	Limit 2: Non-Renewable Resources	231
7.5.3	Limit 3: Climate Change	236
7.6	Summary	237
7.7	Review Questions	238
	Notes	239
8	International Trade, Exchange Rates, and Capital Flows	241
8.1	Macro Concepts and Analysis	243
8.1.1	The Current Account	245
8.1.2	The Financial Account	247
8.1.3	The Statistical Discrepancy	249
8.1.4	Accounting Identities	249
8.2	Methodology in Other Countries	251
8.2.1	US Net Investment Position	252
8.3	International Application: Current Account Balances in the G7	253
8.3.1	Trade Deficit Issues	254
8.4	The Balance of Payments and the System of National Accounts	257
8.5	Exchange Rate Concepts	261

8.5.1 Exchange Rate Parity Conditions	265
8.5.2 Exchange Rate Changes and Policy	268
8.5.3 International Application: Currency Pegs	271
8.5.4 International Application: Dollarization	274
8.6 Summary	275
8.7 Review Questions	275
Notes	276
9 Free Trade and Protectionism	277
9.1 Macro Concepts and Analysis	280
9.1.1 What Is Free Trade?	280
9.1.2 Why Is Free Trade Desirable?	281
9.1.3 International Application: Why Globalization Works	283
9.1.4 What Is Protectionism?	283
9.1.5 International Application: Safeguards and Chinese Textiles	285
9.1.6 Is Protectionism Bad?	286
9.1.7 International Application: the Steel Safeguards and Employment	288
9.1.8 International Application: Job Losses and the Outsourcing of Jobs	289
9.2 Global Trade Policy	291
9.2.1 The WTO	291
9.2.2 WTO Trade Disputes	292
9.2.3 Regional Trade Agreements	295
9.2.4 The Doha Round	297
9.2.5 International Application: the Trans-Pacific Partnership	299
9.3 International Organizations	302
9.3.1 The International Monetary Fund	303
9.3.2 The World Bank Group	303
9.3.3 The Bank for International Settlements	304
9.3.4 The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD)	304
9.3.5 G7 and G20	305
9.4 Summary	305
9.5 Review Questions	306
Notes	307
Index	308