

Contents

Preface	vii
PART I
BACKGROUND	1
chapter 1 The Problems of Defining a Business	3
chapter 2 Clues from Existing Theory		11
PART II
DEFINING THE BUSINESS IN PRACTICE	27
chapter 3 Contrasts in Customer Functions Served: Computer Peripherals		29
chapter 4 Contrasts in Customer Functions and Customer Groups Served: Automatic Teller Machines	58
chapter 5 Contrasts in Customer Functions, Customer Groups and Technologies Utilized: CT Scanners	87
chapter 6 Defining the Business at Different Levels: Forestry Skidders		116

PART III
NEW THEORY AND EXTENSIONS      167

- chapter 7    A Theory of Business
                  Definition      169*
- chapter 8    A Theory of Market
                  Boundary Definition      191*

PART IV
IMPLICATIONS      215

- chapter 9    Implications for Strategy
                  Formulation      217*
- chapter 10   Implications for Organization and Planning      231*
- Index      249*