

Contents

Acknowledgments	v
Introduction
YUYA KIUCHI	1
Soccer Saves the World? The Complexities of Using the Global Game for International Development
ANDREW GUEST	15
The CONIFA World Cup for Unrecognized States
GLEN DUERR	33
Homophobia in Sport: Who Can Play?
CEDRICK HERAUX	55
Behind the 8-Ball: The Status of Gender Inequality and Discrimination in Sport
MEGHAN E. FOX and FRANCISCO A. VILLARRUEL	77
Sportswomen in Wheelchairs: Doubly Discriminated Against but Duly Impressive
LINDA K. FULLER	99
Discrimination or Oversight? Making Disability Visible in the Sport Management Classroom
JOSHUA R. PATE and ROBIN HARDIN	109
As American as Football, Basketball and Oppression Pie: An Analysis of the Evolution of Racial Policing in American Team Sports
LATOYA T. BRACKETT	129

viii Table of Contents

“Eleven wretched women”: Gender and the Summer Olympics BENJAMIN JAMES DETTMAR	150
“They still call us Indians”: Colombian Racers and the Barriers of Race, Class and Nation in the Tour de France, 1983–1985 COREY SHOUSE	166
Being Good Neighbors: Aston Villa Football Club, Community Engagement and Corporate Social Relations DANIELLE SARVER COOMBS and JAKE KUCEK	185
About the Contributors	207
Index	211