

Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	x
Part I On the Architecture of Universal Grammar	1
Introduction	3
1 Nonconfigurationality	5
2 Movement Paradoxes	16
3 Lexicality and Argument Structure	25
Part II Formally Modelling the Architecture	41
Introduction	43
4 A Formal Model of Syntactic Structure	44
5 Monotonicity and Some of its Consequences	73
Part III Inflectional Morphology and Phrase Structure Variation	87
Introduction	89
6 A Theory of Structure–Function Mappings	90
7 Endocentricity and Heads	126
8 Pronoun Incorporation and Agreement	144
9 Topicalization and Scrambling	180
Part IV On Functional Structures: Binding, Predication, and Control	209
Introduction	211
10 Basic Binding Theory	212
11 Types of Bound Anaphors	236
12 Predication Relations	267
13 Anaphoric Control	287
14 From Argument Structure to Functional Structure	302
Problem Sets and Solutions	323
Introduction	325
Problem Set 1	326
Problem Set 2	329
Problem Set 3	344

Problem Set 4	354
Problem Set 5	379
Solutions to Selected Exercises	392
References	418
Index of Languages Referenced	440
Index of Concepts	442