

Contents

Author's Preface	xi
Part I Introduction	1
1. Structure of the Study and Critical Appraisal of the State of Research	3
Jesuit Historiography and Sources	5
Friedrich Spee and His Cautio Criminalis	13
Early Modern Criminal Jurisdiction and Prison Ministry	19
Part II A "Roman Theologian" Having "Trouble": Friedrich Spee as a Jesuit	25
2. Inner Maturation and Academic Education (1591–1623)	27
Ten Torches in St. Achatius in Cologne: Youth and Inner Crisis as a Student	27
As a Novice in Trier	33
The Würzburg Philosophy Student: "World Under the Stars"	46
Speyer, Worms, Mainz: Practical Experiences	51
The Mainz Theology Student: "Judgement Good and Critical"	55
3. Initial Difficulties in the Society (1623–29)	67
First Professorship in Paderborn and Tertianship: "He Is to Be Assayed"	67
Excursus I: Instruments for Remedying "Obstinate Manners"	76
A Table Top next to St. Gereon in Cologne: The Teacher of Logic	81
The Assassination Attempt: "That the Divine Providence Holds Him Dear"	86
4. The Publication of the Cautio Criminalis and its Consequences (1629–35)	93
Removal in Paderborn: "Less Prudent in the Selection of Opinions"	93
Excursus II: Publishing and Jesuit Internal Censorship	102
First Edition in Rinteln: A University Printer off St. James's	106
The Window of the Gap in Censorship	125
Second Edition in Cologne: "Father Friedrich Spee May Be Dismissed"	134
Death in Trier: "That We Shall Never Regret"	152
Part III From the Prison Ministry of the Rhenish Jesuits to the Cautio Criminalis	165
5. Prison Visits During Witch Trials	167
Dimensions of Pastoral Activity Against 'Sorcery' Outside Prison	168
The Twofold Office of the "Prison Visitor": "Admired Even by the Judges"	197

Visiting the Prisons: Dialogues	212
Waiting for the Verdict	233
The Expert Opinions: "Among Catholic Jurymen and with a Good Conscience"	275
The Spectacle of the Execution	292
6. The Prison Visit Reflected in the Cautio Criminalis	311
Poetry of "High-Frozen Hails" versus Exegesis of Bad Weather	311
The Sacrament of Penance and an Ecclesiastic Emergency	317
"Curiosity" (curiositas) and "Conscience" (conscientia)	319
The Father Confessor in Criminal Court Practice	325
Part IV Book Author and "Victim of Charity" (17th–20th Centuries)	337
7. The Pseudonymous Cautio Criminalis in its Reception History	339
On the Way to Jesuit Internal Rehabilitation: "For Rightful Reasons"	339
The Author "Whom It May Be Useful to Have Read"	343
On the Way to Historicization and New Departures	349
8. Official Commemoration	353
The Friedrich Spee Eulogy	353
A Remark by the Bollandists	362
Part V Summary, Conclusions, and Perspectives	367
9. On the Biography of Friedrich Spee	369
10. On Pastoral Ministry During the Witch Trials	375
On the Statistics of the Witch Trials	375
The Office of the Prison Visitor	375
Dimensions of Prison Ministry	378
Language and Theology of the Reports from the Prisons	381
Between Rome, the Empire, and Overseas	383
11. Outlook	385
"A Forest of Stakes"	385
Limits of Obedience	387
Figures	391
Appendices	425
Transcript 1	425
Transcript 2	431
Bibliography	443
Abbreviations and Works of Reference	507
Index of Places	515
Index of Persons	527