

Table of contents

Preface VII

Acknowledgements XI

List of figures XIII

CHAPTER 1

Introduction

- 1.1 Satire as humorous discourse 1
- 1.2 The model: In brief, and in abstract 7
- 1.3 About this book 11

CHAPTER 2

Linguistic approaches to humour

- 2.1 Introduction 15
- 2.2 Linguistic approaches to humour 16
- 2.3 The Semantic Script Theory of Humour 29
- 2.4 The General Theory of Verbal Humour and beyond 37
- 2.5 Review and conclusions 44

CHAPTER 3

Literary-critical approaches to satirical humour

- 3.1 Introduction 47
- 3.2 Literary-critical approaches to satirical humour 48
- 3.3 Problems and issues in literary-critical approaches 57
- 3.4 Summary and extension 63

CHAPTER 4

Satire as discourse

- 4.1 Introduction 69
- 4.2 Satire as a discursive practice 72

1

15

47

69

- 4.3 Satire as irony within irony 90
- 4.4 Satire, irony, discourse: Applying the model of analysis 97
- 4.5 Summary and conclusions 108

CHAPTER 5

Ways of doing satire 111

- 5.1 Introduction 111
- 5.2 Theoretical preliminaries: Satire, parody and irony 113
- 5.3 Metonymic and metaphoric satirical method 125
- 5.4 Conclusions 149

CHAPTER 6

Satirical uptake 153

- 6.1 Introduction 153
- 6.2 A model for satirical uptake: Habermas and “universal pragmatics” 158
- 6.3 Validity claims and satirical uptake 165
- 6.4 Summary 185

CHAPTER 7

When satire goes wrong 187

- 7.1 Introduction 187
- 7.2 Developing a case study: Alan Clark vs. the Evening Standard 188
- 7.3 Analysis, overview and commentary 194
- 7.4 Extension and summary 205

CHAPTER 8

Analysing satire as discourse 211

- 8.1 Overview 211
- 8.2 Extension 214
- 8.3 Development 218

References 221

Name index 233

Subject index 237