

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Note on Transliteration and Translation	xi
1 Decentering the Self in Arabic Autobiography	1
2 Entwined Voices, Embedded Auto/Biography: Hanan al-Shaykh's My Life Is an Intricate Tale	30
3 Engagement and Separation in Leila Abouzeid's Return to Childhood	48
4 Self in the City in Abd al-Rahman Munif's Story of a City: A Childhood in Amman	68
5 Inscribing the Self in a Landscape of Rupture: Salim Barakat's The Iron Grasshopper	88
6 Casting the Self through Outcasts: Mohamed Choukri's Streetwise	115
7 Personal Myth and Self-Invention: Autobiographer as Ironic Hero in Samuel Shimon's An Iraqi in Paris	137
8 Autobiographer as Auto-ethnographer: Hanna Abu Hanna's The Cloud's Shadow	165
9 Conclusions	185
Index	193