

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	Véronique Decaix and Ana María Mora-Márquez
2	Aristotle and Alexander of Aphrodisias on Active Intellectual Cognition	13
	Frans A. J. de Haas
3	Selective Attention Beyond Activity: Robert Kilwardby’s Theory of Perception	37
	Elena Băltuță
4	Cognition as Intellectual Constitution: Dietrich of Freiberg in Discussion with Thomas Aquinas	57
	Véronique Decaix
5	From Agent to Active Sense: Was There an Augustinianism-Averroisist?	79
	José Filipe Silva
6	Three Jesuit Accounts of Cognition: Differences and Common Ground in the De Anima Commentaries by Maldonado, Toledo and Dandini (1564–1610)	103
	Anna Tropia
7	Epistemic Responsibility in an Occasionalist World: Malebranche’s Theory of Judgment	133
	Stephan Schmid
8	A Note on Stumpf’s History of Active Intellection	163
	Hamid Taieb
9	Explaining Sherlock’s Glance. On the Perception of Historical Past	175
	Vincent Grondin	