

Contents

Editor's Note	vii
Introduction John Curtis	ix
Terence C. Mitchell's Published Works	xi
1. Five Unpublished Persepolis Relief Fragments in the Ashmolean Museum Paul Collins Ashmolean Museum, Oxford	1
2. Where Did the Persian Kings Live in Babylon? John Curtis Curator Emeritus, British Museum; CEO, Iran Heritage Foundation	10
3. The Use of Seals in Babylonia under the Achaemenids Christopher Walker Curator Emeritus, British Museum	34
4. An Iranian in the Court of King Nebuchadnezzar Alan Millard Professor Emeritus, University of Liverpool	46
5. Biblical Archaeology in the Persian Period Terence Mitchell lately Curator Emeritus, British Museum	51

6. The Textual Connections between the Cyrus Cylinder and the Bible, with Particular Reference to Isaiah Shahrokh Razmjou Department of Archaeology, University of Tehran	158
7. Interpreting Sasanian Beards: Significant Images in an Interconnected World Prudence Harper Curator Emerita, Metropolitan Museum of Art	175
8. Sasanian-Zoroastrian Intellectual Life in the Fifth and Sixth Centuries AD Mahnaz Moazami Associate Editor, Encyclopaedia Iranica, University of Columbia	199
Index of selected place-names and personal names	214